The 65-foot excursion boat, Blue Horizon, brought the Marin Marine Commute Club home from San Francisco to Tiburon last night on its last ferry run.

Shutdown of the charter commute club—but two and one-half months old—was for financial reasons.

"We were taking in between $300 and $350 a week from commuters," said president Fred G. Dupuis, "and we needed $450 to $500."

Dupuis said the club began March 20 with 46 and reached 64 paying club members. The Blue Horizon was chartered from Cruise with Lewis in Sausalito.

Dupuis said Marin residents should not overlook automatically the bay, "the broad expressway," in favor of costly bridges.

He said many of the club's passengers have indicated they will now ride the larger boat of the competing Belvedere-Tiburon Commute Club.

"We're very much in business," said William L. Howell of the latter club. Boats, leased from Harbor Tug and Drayage Co., run Monday through Friday. They leave Tiburon at 7:05 and 7:10 a.m. from the Dock restaurant and leave the Ferry Building in San Francisco at 5:15 and 5:45 p.m.

Howell added there will be another hearing at 10 a.m. June 21 before the California

Public Utilities Commission in San Francisco on Harbor Tug and Drayage Co.'s application for permission to operate common carrier ferry service between Tiburon and San Francisco on a year-round basis.

"There was a note of sadness last night," Dupuis said, "over the Blue Horizon shutdown."

He said commuters on the so-called "little boat" had a few last drinks together from their private bar.

"I'll be riding the other boat," he said.

Appointment Of Police Chief Is Proposed For San Rafael

Committee To Revise Charter Is Advised

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

Appointment of a citizen committee to review San Rafael's city charter and draw up a proposed amendment calling for an appointive police chief is recommended by Charles E. Simpson, Monterey chief hired by the city for a study of its police department.

The recommendation is but one of 44 contained in Simpson's 60-page report, which he presented to the city council last night. Others range all the way from realignment of the salary schedule to painting police cars white.

(The report of Police Chief Charles E. Simpson of Monterey on his study of the San Rafael Police Department will be treated more fully in a series of three articles beginning in tomorrow's Independent-Journal.)

Simpson found no fault with Chief Charles J. Chiesa. He told the council that Chief Chiesa had been most cooperative and helpful during his 364 hours of study of the department and its needs.

But he pointed out in his report that election of a police chief poses problems both for the chief and the men who serve under him.

"There is an additional burden placed upon the elected chief and the members of his department which can be very troublesome," he wrote. "This in its simplest terms is that the public at large tends to be suspicious that police actions are political in origin or that police omissions are political in origin."

This public suspicion is hard on police morale. "There is a saying in the law enforcement field that 'things not only have to be right, they have to seem right,'" Simpson commented. "Thus, it can come about that a fire department, doing a good job, can face almost unsurmountable obstacles in the face of an improper method of selection of its leader."

The necessary campaigning for re-election interferes with the police work of an elected chief.

Santa Fe Million-Dollar Loss Claimed If NWP Line Dropped

By RANDALL GOULD

Claim of a Santa Fe freight agent that his line will lose "close to a million dollars a year" if Northwestern Pacific Railroad permanently abandons service through San Rafael led to a morning-long legal battle today before Interstate Commerce Commission examiner F. Roy Linn in San Francisco.

Several San Rafael witnesses were kept waiting and the city's attorney Boris H. Lakusta indicated anxiety as to whether he could keep his witnesses lined up through more delays.

Attorney Randolph Karr, representing Northwestern Pacific, asked another half-day delay tomorrow morning, insisting he is needed before the State Public Utilities Commission.

The question had still to be decided by the examiner at noon.

C. A. Sprengelmeyer of San Francisco made his claim of "close to a million dollars" loss during afternoon testimony yesterday.

Sprengelmeyer, a assistant general freight agent for the Santa Fe, also submitted a list of conditions which he felt the ICC should impose for protection of his line if it allows the NWP abandonment.

His testimony as to loss was bolstered by several exhibits, including a statement of traffic received by Santa Fe at Tiburon from Northwestern Pacific before and after the fire which closed NWP's Puente Suello tunnel in San Rafael last July 20.

Totals of cars both ways came to 3,392 for the five last months of 1960, before the fire which halted mainline traffic from the north into San Rafael. Sprengelmeyer said Santa Fe had gross revenue from this source of $700,155.

In contrast, he said that for the same period of last year, after traffic through the tunnel had stopped, Santa Fe totaled only 116 cars at Tiburon with receipts of only $36,972.

"Santa Fe opposes the application (for abandonment)," said Sprengelmeyer in one of his few non-technical statements of an afternoon devoted to seemingly endless wrangling and objections from Karr on behalf of Northwestern Pacific.

Almost every statement by Sprengelmeyer on either direct or cross-examination was followed by Karr's chant, varying slightly but as usually included

Marin Vote A Little Slow

Marinites were in no hurry this morning to cast ballots in primary elections which also provide the final showdown on three county offices and the fate of three school bond issues.

Spot checks at polling places around the county shortly before noon showed less than 20 per cent had voted at virtually all, with the percentage running between 10 and 15 in most precincts.

County Clerk George H. Gnos predicted a turnout of 60 to 65 per cent of Marin's 71,908 registered voters by the time polls close at 7 p.m.

Double shifts of election officials are expected to speed the ballot count, Gnos said. When the polls close, daytime election clerks will go home and new crews will take over the job of counting.

The Independent-Journal will begin checking of polling places soon after the polls close. Election information will be available by telephone from the I-J office in San Rafael.

Radio KTIM-FM will go on the air with election returns as soon after the polls close as any are available, and will continue until 11 p.m. or later, said station manager Hugh Turner. Regular KTIM broadcasts will include early returns until the AM station goes off the air at dark.

Inquiries at the Independent-Journal today indicated top interest in the Marin Junior College District's 35-cent tax increase proposal, which is intended to provide pay-as-you-go financing for expansion of the college's Kentfield campus and acquisition of a second campus in North Marin.

Morning voting was heavier in Novato than in most other areas, attributed to a closely fought contest between incumbent William A. Gnos and former Novato Mayor Wayne Womack for Fifth District county supervisor.

Other county contests are a four-way race for treasurer-tax collector and two-candidate contests for assessor and coronator-public administrator. Remaining county offices are uncontested.

School tax measures, besides that in Marin Junior College District, are in Lagunitas and Sausalito elementary school districts.

The battle of the campaign signs continued down to the wire.

For the second time in less than a week, a truck carrying Nixon for Governor signs was damaged by vandals, William Keller, special events chairman for the Marin Nixon Committee, reported to the sheriff yesterday. This time, wiring was pulled from the truck. Last week, campaign signs were stolen, Keeler said.

Church Liberal-Conservative Split Shapes Up At Baptists' Convention

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The theological controversy between Southern Baptist conservatives and liberals could spread to the main sessions of the annual convention opening today, a spokesman reports. (See also story, page 3)

The national meeting, which runs through Friday, is expected to attract 10,000. A two-day pastors' conference with 2,000 in attendance ends today.

Roy McClain, former president of the pastors' conference, referred to the expected debate in a speech yesterday.

Conservative Baptists several months ago attacked as too liberal the viewpoints expressed by Dr. Dale H. Moody of Dallas in sermons and by Dr. Ralph Elliott, a Kansas City seminary professor, in his book, "The Message of Genesis."

McClain, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Atlanta, criticized Baptists who he said were trying to climb the denominational ladder to glory by condemning intellectuals in the name of defending the word of God.

"God forbid this," he said. "That's sacrilege."

"If you believe as a conservative that the Bible is the inspired word of God, that Jesus Christ is the son of God, and that there is only one heaven and hell, then being a conservative is a resounding compliment."

"But if as a conservative you mean a man has the answers revealed to him by the spirit, or that everyone else is wrong if they disagree with him, then being a conservative is no compliment at all."

Nixon Return To Arena Tops Long State Ballot

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Richard M. Nixon's embattled return to the political arena topped an extra-long ballot in California's primary election today.

Two key questions awaited answer in the former vice president's quest for the GOP nomination for governor against a hard-charging conservative candidate who calls his followers "the new breed of California Republicans."

1. Could the party's 1960 presidential candidate overcome the vigorous challenge by Assemblyman Joseph C. Shell; and if so, by what margin?

2. Could the winner solidify the ranks of the GOP—outnumbered 4 to 3 by Democrats in registration—for the November effort to oust Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown? Brown had no serious opposition in his own party primary.

Between 60 to 70 per cent of the seven million voters were expected to check into 31,212 precincts during balloting. Warm, sunny weather was in prospect.

Builders, Carpenters Hinted Near Agreement; Masons Join Pickets

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—There were some hints today that progress was being made—although slowly—toward a settlement of the 35-day Northern California construction strike and shutdown.

Both sides were hanging tough on some issues, but the masons' issue was reported eased "off center" by a tentative agreement between contractors and carpenters. Other matters, however, remained unresolved.

After the past five days of continuous negotiations failed to produce an agreement, the Cement Masons joined the Laborers Union on the picket line yesterday.

Dr. John Dunlop, presidential adviser and chairman of the Harvard Economics Department, flew back to Boston Sunday night. He had succeeded in getting five unions and employers together.

"It's like trying to juggle five balls at the same time," was Dunlop's comment before he left.

But Eichler Homes Inc., one of the Bay Area's largest homebuilders, announced work would resume on its jobs today. The firm said it had signed an interim agreement with the laborers.

Peter Kiewit Sons Co., M&K Corp. and Fred J. Early Co. cracked the solid employer shutdown front on May 24.

The four firms granted the Laborers a 72-cent an hour package increase over three years.

The Northern California Council of Employers, of which the Associated General Contractors and the Northern California Home Builders Conference are the two largest members, had offered 60 cents an hour.

Teamsters and Operating Engineers, the two other unions in the negotiations, are contesting certain language in their contracts.

Both William H. Baldwin, chairman of the 10-man employers negotiating team, and Terrence O'Sullivan, Laborers spokesman, said it appeared negotiations would have to start all over again.

The strike and shutdown have stopped work on an estimated 35 billion dollars of projects in Northern California.

Mild Algiers Outbreak Follows End Of Truce

By ANDREW BOROWIEC

ALGIERS (AP)—The Secret Army Organization ordered a new wave of terror today, but only two killings were reported. French officials interpreted this as a further sign of deep rifts in an indecision.

A Moslem was shot down near the center of the city and the body of another Moslem was found in the Bouzahreh suburb, but calm reigned in most parts of Algiers.

During the night, a police station and two buildings owned by Moslems were set afire.

The secret army warned Monday night in a private radio broadcast that it was ending the five-day truce in terrorism, but that it hoped for further contacts with Moslem nationalists.

French officials continued to hope for a "solution of reason and good sense." They believed the secret army was torn by indecision and deep ideological and leadership troubles.

Early this morning, Europeans besieged banks to withdraw their savings. Administrative buildings were crowded by men and women filling out repatriation documents and demanding passports.

TREASURY SECRETARY DOUGLAS DILLON
As he spoke to financial writers

JFK To Propose Income Tax Reduction

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon says the administration will propose a top-to-bottom reduction in income tax rates for enactment by Congress next year.

He told the New York Financial Writers Assn. at a dinner last night that the proposal will be part of "a fundamental restructuring of our income tax system, designed to promote the maximum long-term economic growth."

The cuts would be coupled with revenue-raising proposals to offset the resulting loss of government revenue "in whole or in part," Dillon said.

He said no decision has been made on how far to go in offsetting the lower tax rates by broadening the base of the tax structure and closing loopholes.

Dillon's statement was viewed as the most forceful declaration to date of the administration's tax plans for next year.

The tax plans of which he spoke would be part of the income tax reform bill the administration long has planned to hand Congress before it adjourns, with an eye toward legislative action early next year.

Dillon said he welcomes growing talk of a tax cut but not as "a hasty, ill-considered reaction to the gyrations of the stock market."

He spoke of the dramatic price drop of May 28 as one in which "all vestiges of reason were temporarily pushed aside, and panic took control of the great New York Stock Exchange."

Dillon said he sees no economic factors underlying the market's performance. Rather, he said, the slump reflects a realization that inflation has been brought under control.

During 1961, he said, investors and speculators pushed stock prices to inflated levels in the belief that inflation was just around the corner.

He said the fact that this belief has been pretty well dispelled is the basic reason behind the decline in stock prices over the past few months.

Dillon said the economy has picked up steam and is moving ahead rapidly after a mid-winter pause. In a question-and-answer period after his speech, he said there is no reason to feel the recovery won't carry through despite the recent stock market weakness.

"The market has its effects," he said. "Certain people won't buy automobiles because of last week's weaknesses, but mass purchasing power is what counts and there is no indication that that was disturbed."

Dillon stressed administration efforts to improve business profits through proposals to grant a tax credit on new investments in more modern equipment. He said it plans to announce, within the next month, liberalized depreciation allowances.

COMMON MARKET INCREASES DUTY

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — The European Common Market will increase duties as much as 100 per cent on five classes of American products July 17 in retaliation for similar U.S. tariff boosts on carpets and sheet glass.

The six-nation Common Market's Council of Ministers approved the unprecedented tariff boosts yesterday at the request of Belgium, which charged that the U.S. duty increases threaten industries in Belgium that involve 6,000 workers and 26 million dollars a year.

The Common Market action will double to about 40 per cent of their value the duties on American-produced polyester, polyethylene, artificial and synthetic textiles and raise from 16 to 19 per cent the duties on American varnishes and water colors.

Officials said U.S. exports of these products to Common Market nations—France, Belgium, West Germany, Luxembourg, The Netherlands and Italy—total 27 million dollars yearly. They said the difference in duty would total 5 million dollars a year.

Under the rules of the General Agreement on Tariff and Trade, the Common Market duties go into effect a month after the new U.S. tariff increases become effective June 17.

The new U.S. tariff rates will boost duties on wilton and velvet or tapestry carpet imports from 21 to 40 per cent. The increased duties on cylinder, crown and sheet glass will range from 1.3 cents to 3.5 cents. Belgium is the leading source of U.S. imports of wilton and velvet carpet and sheet glass.

President John F. Kennedy announced last March that he was reluctantly ordering the increases because the U.S. carpet and glass industries had been hard hit by unemployment.

Kennedy said that Belgian unemployment was half the U.S. level and that Belgium enjoyed a favorable balance of payments while the United States was losing gold.

Belgium charged that Washington had violated rules of the general agreement by announcing the increases without prior consultation. Common Market officials also were angered by what they called the incompatibility between the tariff boosts and Kennedy's congressional appeal for a liberal U.S. trade policy.

Portugal meanwhile applied for membership in the Common Market.

Nuclear Check Held Key For Disarming Pact

GENEVA (UPI) — The United States told the 17-nation disarmament conference today that control over nuclear weapons was the most important plank of any disarmament treaty.

Ambassador Arthur H. Dean said the United States proposed "to face this frankly and at an early stage of the disarmament effort."

He said the United States wants to clear up the matter of verification of nuclear weapons stockpiles even before a treaty is completed so that the whole thing can be spelled out in the treaty itself.

Dean spoke to the 49th plenary session of the conference less than two hours after returning from the United States.

Spelling out the U.S. provisions for reduction of stockpiles of nuclear armaments, as outlined in the American draft disarmament plan presented to the conference April 18, Dean accused the Soviet Union of "trying to spread the idea that the United States is somehow opposed to concrete provisions for the total liquidation of nuclear weapons."

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin has accused the U.S. of wanting to retain nuclear weapons until the very end of disarmament to coerce other states.

Dean spelled out the aims of the American disarmament treaty as follows:

STAGE 1. Freezing nuclear weapons at their present point and beginning the reduction of existing stocks.

STAGE 2. Making "very great inroads" into existing weapons stockpiles.

STAGE 3. "Witnessing their total elimination."

Nuclear Warhead Can Be Safely Destroyed In Air

HONOLULU (AP) — Scientists at Johnston Island proved at least one thing when they deliberately destroyed a Thor missile and its nuclear warhead high above the Pacific:

A warhead can be blown apart at high altitude without causing a nuclear explosion.

Reports reaching Honolulu said Atomic Energy Commission workers at Johnston gained some consolation in the knowledge the rocket and its nuclear payload didn't get completely away from them.

The Thor, carrying the warhead aloft early Monday for the first high altitude nuclear detonation of the current Pacific series, was destroyed by a safety officer when the missile's tracking system developed a malfunction. Fragments of the Thor and the nuclear device fell into 720 feet of water "well within the established testing area."

The shot will be rescheduled as soon as possible, Joint Task Force 8 headquarters said last night. A spokesman indicated another firing date would be announced later.

The AEC and the Defense Department said there was no possibility of a nuclear explosion resulting from the warhead's fragments. Statements by both agencies said, "it is not considered that they (the fragments) will cause hazardous levels of radio-activity in ocean water, or constitute a hazard to human life."

Left unanswered in the statements was the possibility that small fragments of the warhead might have remained aloft in the troposphere—up to 55,000 feet—or in or above the stratosphere. The heaviest pieces fell into the ocean almost immediately.

Scientists did not rule out the possibility of some fragments circulating miles above the earth. But they insisted there was no hazard to humans.

Fissionable material in the stratosphere might take between one and five years to fall to earth. It would circle the earth just like fallout from a nuclear bomb blast.

Safeguards have been built into nuclear devices to prevent accidental or unscheduled firings. A task force spokesman said the full power of a warhead could be detonated only on specific signal.

Nuclear weapons contain varying amounts of conventional high explosives to unite nuclear components in the "critical mass" of nuclear particles that cause the explosive chain reaction.

A small nuclear energy release might result from a misfire but the AEC asserted the effect would be negligible.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Crash Kills Georgia Candidate

WOODBURY, Ga. (AP) — A. Edward Smith, Republican candidate for governor of Georgia, was killed today in an automobile-truck crash.

Smith's wife was injured. She suffered a possible skull fracture and was taken to St. Francis Hospital in Columbus.

The state patrol reported Smith's car crashed head on into a truck owned by the Neal Trucking Lines of Montgomery, Ala. The driver of the truck, Paul Boggs, was not seriously injured.

Smith's body was taken to his home in Columbus.

The patrol report said Smith's car crossed the center line and crashed with the truck shortly after midnight on Georgia 85.

The 60-year-old Republican candidate was dead on arrival at the Meriwether Hospital in Warm Springs.

They Ate, Didn't Pay, Police Say

Two men, accused of walking out of Sabella's Restaurant without paying for fillet mignon and New York steak, were jailed Sunday on suspicion of defrauding an innkeeper.

Michael Lee Peterson, 19, of San Francisco, and Earl Vincent Jensen, 20, of Spokane, Wash., were bailed out on $105 each and are scheduled to appear in court on Friday afternoon. They told Deputy Sheriff R. H. Tschirgi they are students.

Luciano Sabella told the officer he chased the two outside about 11:40 last night, but they jumped in a car and sped south on Highway 101. Sabella called the California Highway Patrol. Patrol Officers Alan Bragg and Ray Kirner stopped the car and brought the two back to the restaurant at Alto. A waitress and the cashier identified them as the ones who had skipped without paying.

Telephone Receiver Stolen From Booth

A telephone receiver was stolen from a pay telephone booth at Miller Creek Road and Marinwood Avenue in Marinwood, Deputy Sheriff Charles Prandi reported Sunday.

He was on patrol about 10:45 p.m. when he spotted the wires cut and the receiver missing.

A tribute tomorrow to the president of Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary by Brooks Hays, special assistant to President John F. Kennedy, will highlight Marin County's part in the 1962 Southern Baptist Convention, being held this week in San Francisco.

The former Democratic congressman from Arkansas will deliver the tribute recognizing Harold K. Graves, who has been president of the religious school for the past 10 years in Berkeley and at its present location in Strawberry.

The 10th anniversary convocation will be held at 4 p.m. in Broadus Hall Chapel on the seminary campus.

The seminary is the site of the church music conference, one of five sections of the overall Baptist gathering. Other portions of the convention are being held in San Francisco.

More than 600 persons are expected to attend the convocation at the Strawberry Point campus, which is a graduate center for theological students.

Hays achieved national prominence for his work in civil rights legislation in the 1950s. He arranged a conference between Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus and President Dwight D. Eisenhower during the Little Rock school desegregation controversy. His part in the matter was a factor in his defeat for re-election to Congress in the November, 1958 elections.

Hays is also a well-known churchman, having served as chairman of the Christian Life Commission of the Southern Baptist Convention and as the president of the convention itself in 1957 and 1958.

He was appointed assistant secretary of state for congressional relations in 1961 and later, special assistant to the president.

Graves, a graduate of Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, Ill., was elected president of the seminary May 13, 1962.

Graves is a former president of the Baptist General Convention of Oklahoma and former president of the board of Oklahoma Baptist University. He served as co-chairman of the steering committee for the 1962 convention.

The church music conference, held yesterday and today at the Strawberry Point seminary, included conferences, business sessions and concerts by the Golden Gate Seminary choir and other musical groups of the school.

A brotherhood leadership meeting was held today from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the seminary.

Other special convention events to be held at the campus include the Golden Gate Seminary alumni dinner at 4 p.m. tomorrow, the Mississippi College luncheon at 12:30 p.m. Thursday, and the Golden Gate trustees' meeting at 2:30 p.m. Friday.

Paris Pilot Probably Tried To Halt Chartered Jetliner

PARIS (AP)—Evidence mounted today that the pilot of the chartered jetliner that crashed with the loss of 130 lives made a desperate attempt to halt its takeoff.

The four-engine, Air France Boeing 707 jet rose only a few feet before plunging to earth, smashing through a fence and exploding into flames at Orly Airport Sunday. All 121 American passengers, including many Atlanta cultural leaders, eight crewmen and Air France's Atlanta agent were killed.

The investigation of the crash may not be completed for six months, but there were a number of indications that Capt. Roland Hoche, one of Air France's most experienced pilots, was aware of impending disaster and frantically tried to halt the huge craft.

Pierre Loiseau, a radio operator at the Orly control tower, said he saw smoke coming from the big jet's wheels, indicating that the pilot slammed on the brakes as the plane approached its normal takeoff point. Loiseau said the plane swayed from side to side as though the pilot was maneuvering in an effort to cut speed.

Pleads Guilty To Car Burglary

Stanley G. Sikorski, 21, of Corte Madera pleaded guilty to car burglary yesterday in Marin Superior Court.

Judge Thomas F. Keating set June 25 as the time for a probation officer's report and for sentencing Sikorski on second degree burglary.

Police arrested Sikorski at his home at 266 Sausalito Street on May 23 after a string of thefts were reported from parked cars.

Sikorski yesterday admitted he broke into a car owned by George Schwinger, 309 Scenic Road, Fairfax. A bowling ball was taken from the car.

Maximum penalty for second degree burglary is 15 years in prison.

Skid marks on the runway indicated the pilot had his brakes on for about 500 yards.

Investigators reportedly found the plane's throttle levers in the reverse position, another indication that the pilot tried vainly to halt the jet.

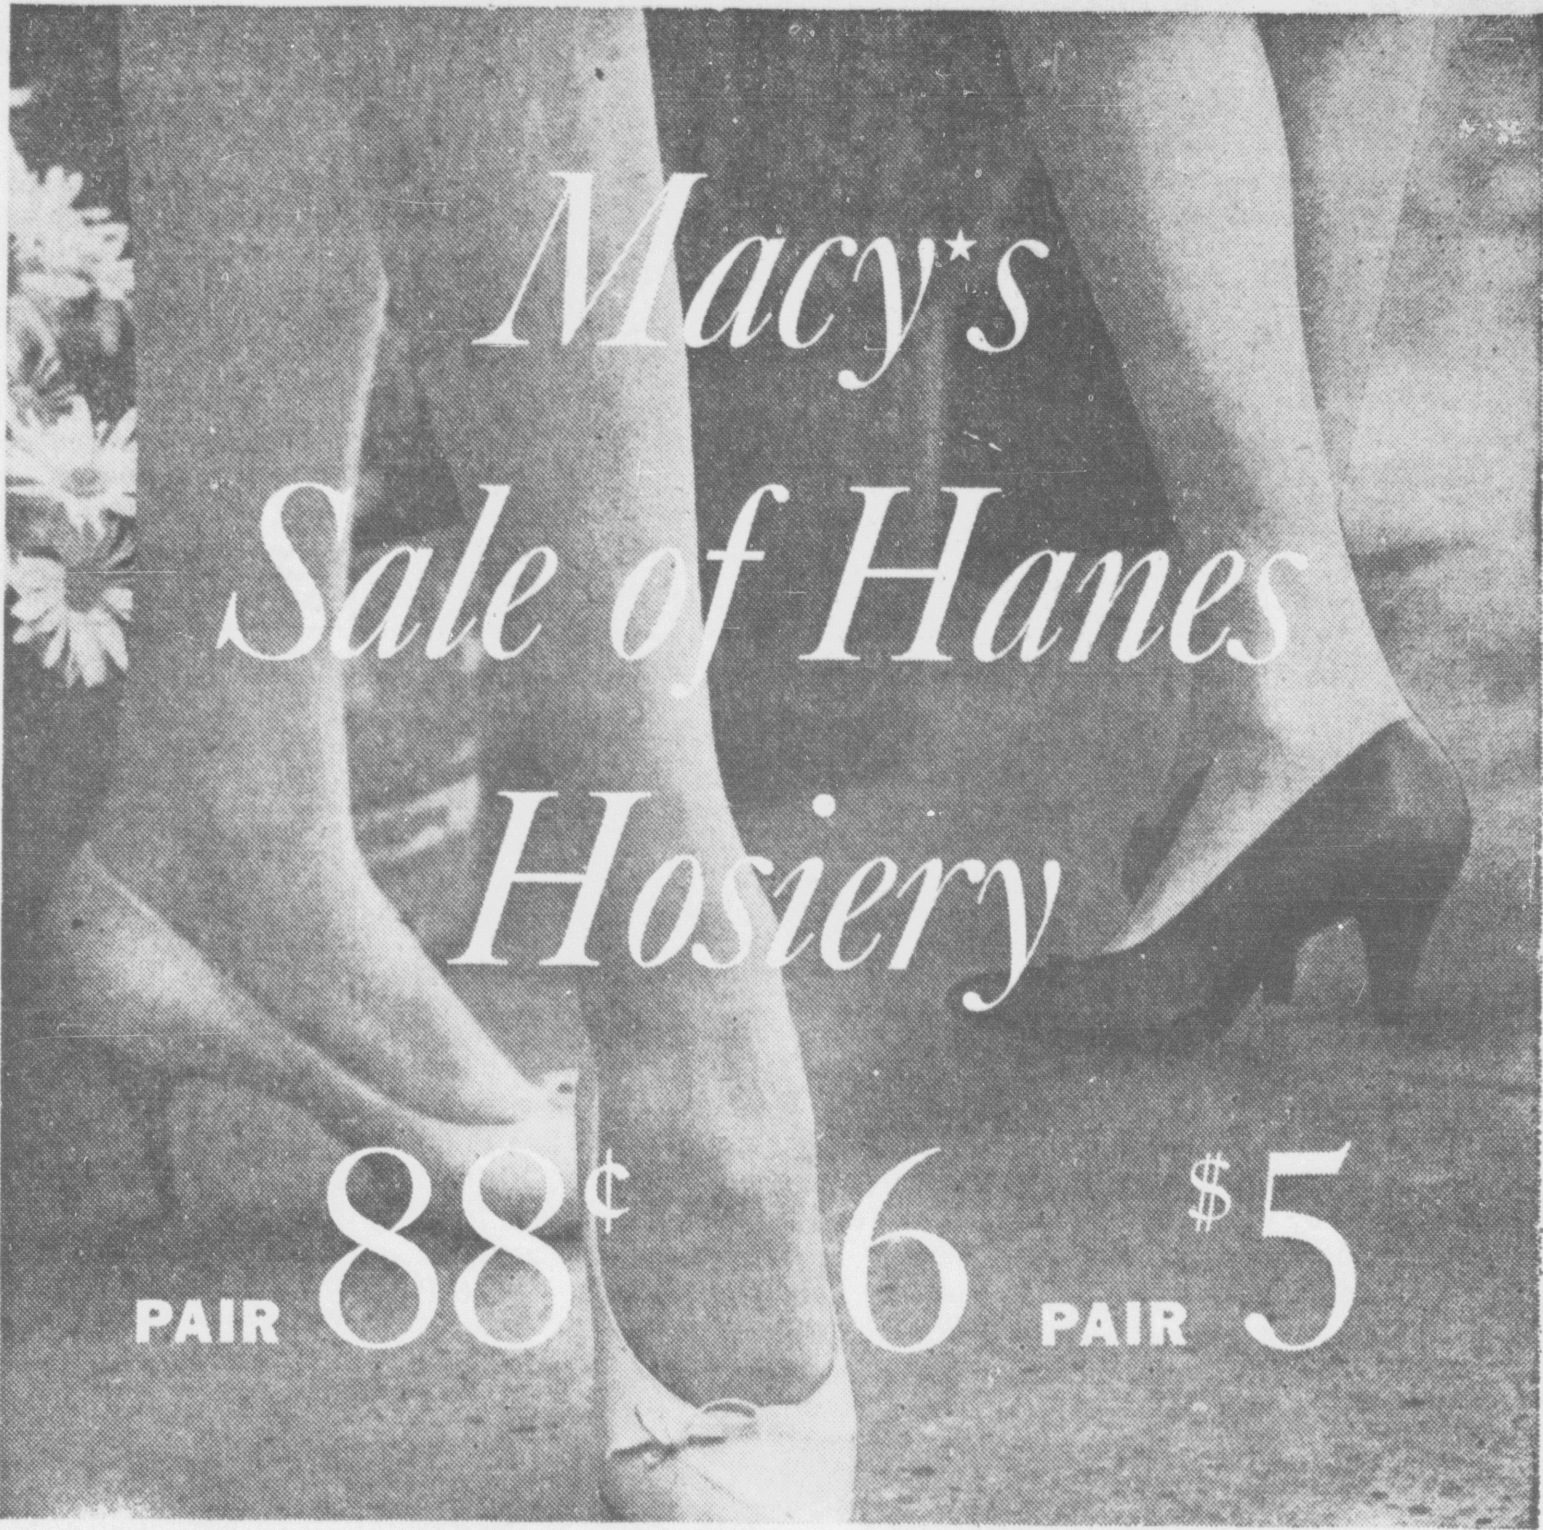

Francoise Authie, 23, one of the two stewardesses who were the only survivors, said she felt the engines slow as the plane rolled down the runway.

"When the engines slowed down I knew we would not take off," she said. "I did not imagine for a moment that we were in danger. Then it happened—like that—suddenly."

Atlanta Mayor Ivan Allen Jr. reported it may be some time before identification of the 105 Atlantans killed in the crash is completed and arrangements are made to send the bodies home.

The plane had been chartered by the Atlanta Art Association for a European tour that was drawing to a close when tragedy struck.

ing: "I object as incompetent, irrelevant, immaterial, argumentative and with no foundation." Mostly he was overruled.

A major part of Strenge-meyer's testimony was intended to show that Southern Pacific as sole owner of Northwestern Pacific sought by rates and otherwise to lure shippers into patronage of the S.P.-controlled northern route via Schellville were used rather than entering Marin via Tiburon.

Karr unexpectedly opened extremely detailed cross-examination of Sprengelmeyer this morning and kept it going until after 11 o'clock, despite several protests by other attorneys.

Frederick G. Pfommer, Santa Fe attorney, repeatedly said matters were going "far afield from this proceeding." Hector Anninos, representing the State Public Utilities Commission, declared "we're wasting time."

Examiner Linn sought to curb Karr mildly, but refrained from more than suggestions to be more brief.

John Davies, Santa Fe trainmaster, who was relieved from regular duty to study whether any savings could be made as a result of changed railroad conditions in Marin County, testified briefly that the only changes were in car ferry service conducted by his railroad.

"If the tunnel remains closed there will be a change in ferry service from conditions before the fire," said Davies. "Service before the fire was six days a week and now it is only two days a week."

Previous testimony had brought out that Santa Fe now ferries only its own cars between Tiburon and Richmond, all other lines being served between Tiburon and San Francisco.

Council Plans Finance Talk On City Hall

San Rafael city councilmen will discuss over lunch Friday how to finance a new city hall.

Councilmen decided on the luncheon session last night, as Mayor John F. McInnis urged action toward purchase of the site selected on Fifth Avenue, between C Street and the city library. City Manager Dan E. Andersen was told to make luncheon arrangements.

The council also authorized Andersen to send to all architects who have expressed interest in the city hall project copies of a letter provided by Ebasco Services, which asks 12 questions regarding the architect and his proposals. Answers must be received by July 2, the council decided. Then the city fathers will start on selection of an architect.

Marin Requested As Arbiter For Water Right Suit

San Francisco and Tuolumne County, involved in a half million dollar legal battle over water rights, is asking neutral Marin County to act as referee.

San Francisco filed the suit yesterday in Marin Superior Court, alleging that Tuolumne should refund $566,977 in water rights taxes.

Tuolumne taxes San Francisco's rights to divert Sierra water into the Hetch Hetchy system. The suit says the rights were not legally taxable when San Francisco acquired them from the state and federal gov.

San Francisco says Tuolumne collected the $566,977 even though the State Board of Equalization ordered drastic reductions.

NEW YORK (P)—The stock market reversed a sinking spell, carved out a sharp advance in heavy trading and remained generally higher although below its best as trading slackened late this afternoon.

Volume for the day was estimated at 5.8 million shares compared with 5.38 million yesterday.

Gains of key stocks ranged from fractions to more than two points in late dealings. A minority of losers went from fractions to more than a point.

The performance was parallel to that of a week ago when a similar dive was corrected and the list staged its best rise since 1929. However, today's movements were much more limited.

The ticker tape ran as much as 34 minutes late. After selling weakened and a strong buying drive got under way it cleared shortly after 2 p.m.

AT&T, a two-point loser at the start, was up more than two in the afternoon. Boeing rose about two. IBM erased a five-point drop and showed a net rise of half a dozen points.

All Big Three auto stocks were fractional gainers. American Motors and Studebaker-Packard were about unchanged. Most leading steels were fractionally higher, Jones and chief, Simpson held. "The only alternatives of the elected chief are to relinquish administrative control of the department or to relinquish his opportunities to be with his voting public," he wrote.

"If he does not relinquish the administrative reins, the department becomes a ship without a rudder, whereas if he does not secure re-election, not only does he lose his job but the department is in even a worse fix, having to change horses in mid-stream."

He then posed the question, if the chief is not elective, to whom should he be responsible—council, mayor, city manager, or police commission?

"I remember... that the mayor and council appoint a citizen committee to review the charter and ordinances and formulate a plan to be presented to the voters for consideration which would provide for the selection of the police chief by open competitive examination and provide further for a clear statement of the group or person to whom the chief is to be responsible," he concluded.

Simpson found evidence of "political suspicion" in San Rafael—but not evidence that it was justified. He reported detecting rather widespread belief that traffic tickets were "fixed." But in a painstaking investigation he found only legitimate voiding of parking tickets by the police, and no "fixing" whatever of tickets for moving violations.

On the whole, Simpson reported, San Rafael is pretty well satisfied with its police, whom he found to be "sincere and dedicated persons who were sensible, courteous, neatly dressed or uniformed and making a creditable effort to provide high quality police service."

However, the department has outgrown both its table of organization and its manpower, the Monterey chief reported.

In presenting his written report, which the councilmen accepted for study, Chief Simpson took occasion to praise the friendly cooperation received from Chief Chiesa, Capt. Joseph Brusatori, other members of the department and the San Rafael public. "I felt at home here," he said.

Mayor John F. McInnis returned the compliment. "In the time you've spent here, those comments that have come to me from the citizenry and members of the police department have been most laudatory," he told Simpson.

The Monterey chief offered to "continue as adviser to the police department at no extra cost except out-of-pocket expenses" for the remainder of the year. (The council had set a limit of $2,000 for the police study at the time it voted to hire an outside expert.)

Councilman Louis H. Baar said he would like to have Simpson return to discuss the report further after councilmen had time to read it. Simpson agreed to do so.

Under the Homestead Act signed by President Abraham Lincoln in 1862 approximately 247 million acres of land came under private ownership.

Laughlin rising more than a point.

Polaroid cut a loss exceeding seven points to slightly more than a point. Litton Industries advanced more than three and Xerox more than a point.

Du Pont deepened a loss to about a point.

Gains of around a point or better were held by Montgomery Ward, Radio Corp., International Harvester, Pfizer, Illinois Central, and Southern Railway.

Union Carbide and Merck were down around a point each.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange moved generally higher in active trading.

U. S. government bonds and corporates were steady to a little lower.

First Chinese Refugees Reach Chicago

By RICHARD CICCONE
CHICAGO (AP)—The first family of Chinese refugees admitted under President John F. Kennedy's new emergency admission program arrived in Chicago today after a flight from Hong Kong.

The new arrivals are See-Sue Eng, 45, his wife Yung Sue-san, and three of their four children. They have been trying to come to the United States since applying for entry in 1955.

"This is the happiest day of my life," Eng announced through an interpreter.

"I am very happy that President Kennedy issued the refugee act and gave me and my family a chance to come to America to see my father and to take care of his business." Eng plans to assume management of a restaurant operated for many years in suburban Park Ridge by his father, Frank Jing Eng, 79. The elder Eng, critically ill in a hospital, left China in 1916. He had never seen his son until 1959 when he visited Hong Kong.

A group of relatives, including the elder Eng's second wife, Yuk-Ping, were at O'Hare International Airport to meet them. Eng and his wife do not speak English. Their children are able to speak a little.

The Engs' eldest child, 18-year-old Leng-Ching, was not allowed to accompany the family because he is suffering from tuberculosis. But the U.S. consulate general in Hong Kong gave the youth a special entry permit today, and he will fly to Chicago tomorrow.

The other children are two daughters, Mee-Har, 16, and Mee-Won, 12, and a son, Leng-Hun, 9. All of the family members plan to become American citizens.

Lucas Valley Plan Given

An outline for a planned community in Lucas Valley was presented yesterday before the Marin County Planning Commission at the first of two public hearings.

MARINER HIGHLANDS PLANS APPROVED

Improvement plans for Mariner Highlands, a subdivision for 215 homes in the $30,000 class in Corte Madera east of Highway 101, were approved last night by the Corte Madera Town Council.

Improvements are to be done by Eaton and Smith of San Francisco for San Clemente Land Co. of San Rafael, developers.

The council delayed acting on the final map pending changes requested by Arthur H. Brandow, town manager-engineer. Improvements were accepted subject to Brandow's conditions.

Daniel P. Coleman of San Rafael, engineer for Eaton and Smith, said he hoped construction would begin before next winter.

The Corte Madera Council Also:

1. Filed, pending further study, an offer by Fred Sanford of Villa Madera to build a town hall on property he owns between Tamalpais and Meadowsweet drives and lease it to the city.

2. After 30 minutes discussion, voted 3-to-2 against a motion by Councilman Charles F. Pendleton, seconded by Councilman Albert E. Kogler, to permit Shell Oil Co. to keep an illegally high sign at Redwood Highway and Lucky Drive. Local height limit is 15 feet; the sign is 23 feet high.

3. Passed an ordinance permitting temporary real estate signs of 24 square feet, four times the maximum formerly allowed, at large subdivisions.

4. Returned to planning commission proposed ordinance requiring covered parking space for one and one-half cars per dwelling unit at apartments.

5. Received report from Brandow that 14 persons had applied for assistant town engineer and he would interview them soon.

6. Set date of June 18 for budget consideration.

7. Reappointed Roy Davis to the Larkspur-Corte Madera joint recreation commission for two-year term beginning July 1.

8. Presented Albert E. Kogler with gavel for his services as mayor the preceding term.

Brookside Sets Graduation Rites

Seventy-four eighth graders at Brookside School in San Anselmo and their parents will gather outside the school at 7:30 p.m. on June 14 for commencement exercises.

Student Body President Douglas Manuel will give the welcoming speech. Student speakers will be Dean Lazzarini and Barbara Jones. After singing by the eighth grade class, Jean Stover will present the class to Supt. Stephen Parodi, who will hand out diplomas.

Mrs. Mary A. Hedin will represent the school district board at commencement.

Homes Inc., landscape architect Robert Royston, and consulting engineer George S. Nolte of San Rafael.

The proposed development would include a three-acre shopping center, three-acre park, an elementary school on a 20-acre site, a firehouse, and one or two churches.

Residences would include 406 single-family homes, 237 apartments in two-story buildings, and 37 apartments in one-story buildings.

Planning commissioners will hold the second public hearing on the master plan June 18.

The County Planning Commission Also:

1. Continued until July 2 a hearing on a proposal to rezone 50 acres of Drakes Beach Estates for a shopping center and apartments. The area, in the proposed Point Reyes National Seashore, is between two subdivisions already being developed. A continuance was requested by the developer to re-design plans.

2. Approved a tentative subdivision map for Paradise Cay Unit No. 2, a 44-acre development next to Paradise Cay on San Francisco Bay.

3. Asked developer J. Y. Long to return June 18 with a modified plan for a new commercial building next to Lee Brothers Market in Marinwood. Planning staff and commissioners said the proposed flat-roof structure was not appropriate for the location.

4. Approved a name change of Leisure Lane to Indian Springs Road west of Novato. Nine of 10 property owners on the street petitioned for the change.

5. Approved addition of 3.5 acres to the existing 6.5-acre site of West Marin School, making a total area of 10 acres for the elementary school at Point Reyes Station.

Child Is Injured In Collision Of Sports Model Cars

Five-year-old Peter Corbett of Belvedere suffered a fractured right arm yesterday when the car in which he was riding with his mother, Mrs. Gloria Bentinck, collided head-on with an auto driven by Frank Zumwalt, 35, on a curve in Belvedere.

Both Mrs. Bentinck, who lives at 316 Golden Gate Avenue, and Zumwalt, who lives at 140 Belle Vista Avenue, Belvedere, suffered minor head injuries but were not hospitalized. The youngster was reported in good condition today at Marin General Hospital.

Police Chief William S. Woodington said the two cars, both convertible sports models, collided at 3:25 p.m. on a "bad curve" in the 100 block of Belle Vista. No citation was issued.

Duffy Fellowship Session Tomorrow

A group of Marin County residents interested in supporting the Clinton Duffy Fellowship will meet at King Cotton Restaurant in San Rafael tomorrow at 8 p.m.

George W. Baney, chairman of the group, announced the purpose of the meeting is to promote the Clinton Duffy Fellowship, a program to provide jobs for prison parolees and help them get back into society. Chairman Baney said anyone interested in the program is invited to attend.

Duffy, former San Quentin warden and retired from the California Adult Authority, conceived the fellowship idea to help rehabilitate parolees.

SUSPECT IN MURDER SEEKS DEFENDER

A 22-year-old ex-Marine, accused of strangling a San Rafael woman to death Saturday night or Sunday morning, wants Public Defender Peter Allen Smith to represent him because he is out of funds.

Claude H. Braley of 36 Woodland Avenue appeared before

Judge Leonard A. Thomas in Marin Municipal Court yesterday and asked for the public defender. The judge ordered Bradley held in jail without bail. He must appear in court tomorrow afternoon to plead.

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety will seek a murder indictment from the Marin County Grand Jury Thursday night.

Mrs. Carole Leona Frederick, 29, estranged wife of former San Rafael Police Officer Eugene C. Frederick, was found dead Sunday morning in her apartment at 45 Woodland Avenue. Gail, 11, eldest of Mrs. Frederick's three daughters, was unable to awaken her mother about 9 a.m. Sunday and called a neighbor. Mrs. Frederick was dead.

Coroner Frank J. Keaton said that marks on the victim's neck indicated she was strangled.

Bradley, the suspect, had come from Sacramento to San Rafael about seven months ago. He has a wife and two children. He worked for a time as maintenance man for Davis Equipment Co. at 424 Irwin Street. Last January, he was arrested and convicted of a burglary at the company. He was released from jail last Saturday.

Police said Bradley visited Mrs. Frederick about 2:30 a.m. Sunday, then took a cab to his mother's home in Ignacio where he spent the remainder of the night.

Private funeral services for Mrs. Frederick were held this morning at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael.

Dobbs To Speak In County Series

B. D. Dobbs, Marin County planning director, will be the first speaker in a "Know Your County" series sponsored by the League of Women Voters of Central Marin.

His talk, entitled "Planning for Growth," will be given at the league's annual picnic meeting tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Malvern Dorinson, Laurel Grove, Ross. The picnic will be from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The league's series on the county will put special emphasis on planning.

3,000 Books Go To Foundation

College of Marin students have delivered more than 3,000 books to the Asian Book Foundation to be sent to students in the Orient.

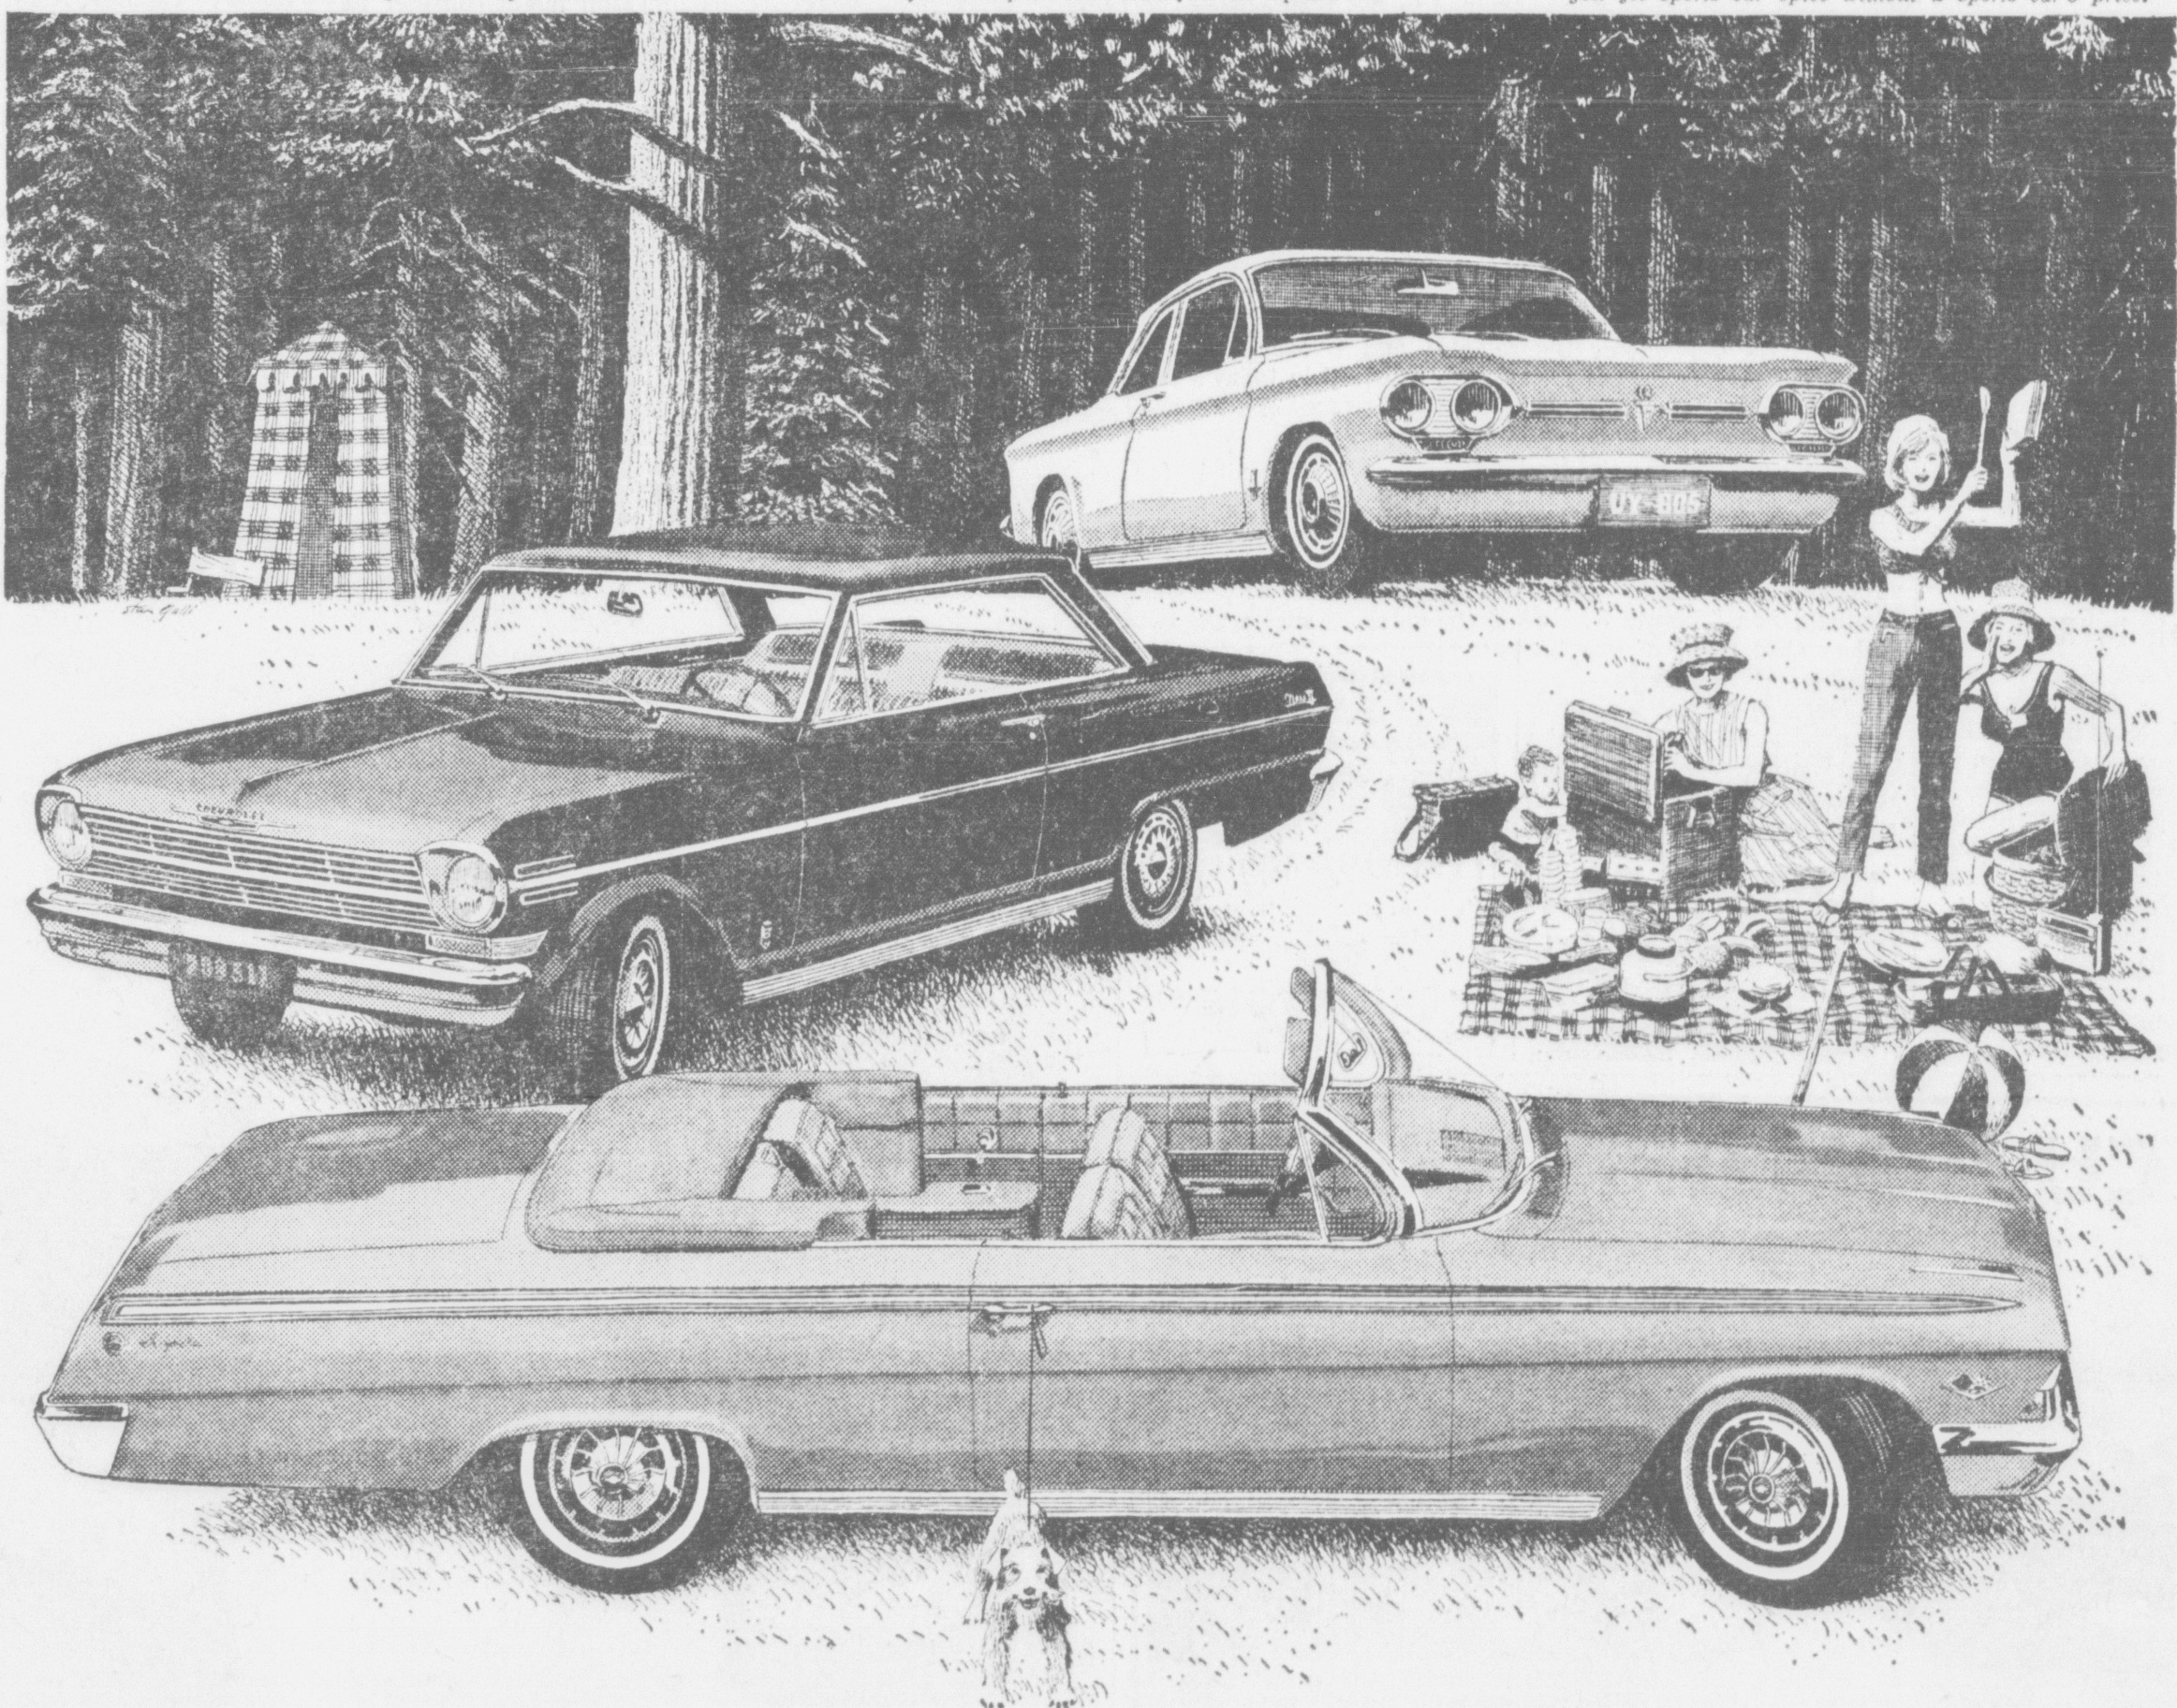

The total is 500 more than were amassed in the drive a year ago, said college president Stephen E. Epler. This year Marin elementary and high school students helped.

The drive for the past six years has been sponsored by the Naturalists Club, college student organization.

Novato Parents Warned Of Poison In Parkway Strip

Pets and children should be kept off the center strip of Sunset Parkway, Novato, from 5 to 8 p.m., next Tuesday, it was announced last night at the Lynwood Park Improvement Assn. meeting at Lynwood School.

At that time, the parkway will be sprayed with poison to kill weeds and insects.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Schuman resigned from the association because they are moving. Schuman is on the board of directors and Mrs. Schuman is chairman of the membership committee. Mrs. George Wahl of 1267 Leafwood Drive was named chairman of the membership committee. No appointment was made to fill the vacancy on the board of directors.

Lawrence Rau was hired as maintenance man for the parkway, effective June 1.

Death In Revolt

PUERTO CABELLO, Venezuela (UPI) — Authorities announced today that the bodies of 204 persons killed in the abortive weekend Marine revolt against President Romulo Betancourt have been recovered. They said the final death toll may reach 400.

Although the last organized resistance has been stamped out, army troops continued to flush hold-out rebels from the hills surrounding the city.

Nixon Return To State Arena Tops Long California Ballot

included six state offices. U.S. senator, 38 congressmen and 100 of the 120 state legislators.

Shell, who waded in against Nixon's support by most Republican state leaders, drew the lines sharply in his final pre-election statement.

He called his candidacy a challenge to "the old die-hard party machine."

Nixon, who pointed his campaign toward November, maintained silence on the Los Angeles assemblyman. He broke with Shell in denouncing the John Birch Society.

Brown, in San Francisco to vote, predicted he'll be re-elected no matter who the Republicans name.

Aside from the Nixon-Shell clash, the primary offered Republicans opportunity to renominate Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel or choose one of two Los Angeles right-wingers—Howard Jarvis and Loyd Wright.

Kuchel's foes charged the Senate minority whip voted 60 per cent of the time with Americans for Democratic Action.

All 16 Democratic and 14 Republican congressmen sought renomination. There was a scramble for the eight additional House seats California gained in the 1960 census.

In the race for state offices, Democratic incumbents with the exception of Lt. Gov. Glenn M. Anderson had little or no opposition on their own ticket. Anderson was opposed by Dist. Atty. William B. McKesson, Los Angeles.

Republicans had contests for lieutenant governor, attorney general and treasurer. Other offices involved in today's voting were secretary of state and controller.

Nine candidates vied for state superintendent of public instruction. The new school chief could be named today if he receives at least 51 per cent of the vote; otherwise, the two

Board Orders New Hear On Open Zoning

The Marin County Planning Commission and Planning Director B. D. Dobbs are not especially happy with the surgery performed by the County Board of Supervisors on the proposed open area zoning law.

Commissioners again have the proposal back from the board, with orders to hold public hearings on the ordinance which would authorize "green belt" zoning only on lands owned by government agencies.

"There's doubt in my mind," Dobbs told the commission, "that an ordinance which would apply only to public-owned lands is going to do a great deal of good."

"Several points should be reviewed," he added, "because there seems to be many pitfalls in the ordinance."

Dobbs said there is now nothing in the proposed law which prevents the sale of public lands after they have been given the protective zoning.

"As far as I can see," said Chairman William Upton, "the change was made just to include lands of the Marin Municipal Water District, and this alone is not what it was intended to be."

With a simple amendment, the supervisors restricted the law to lands owned by "local government agencies," eliminating any application to private lands. The proposal was originally intended to keep large sections of the county for agricultural or recreational uses only.

The commission set July 2 for a public hearing on the ordinance. Dobbs suggested the commission might consider its "own variations with similar intent" at the same time.

Veteran County School Aides Honored On Retirement Eve

Two longtime workers in the county superintendent of schools office were honored with resolutions last night on their retirement from the schools system.

Mrs. Genevieve Sheppard of Larkspur, 17 years a county school nurse, and Clarence Spencer of San Rafael, 14 years head of the county's audio-visual program, each received a vote of thanks from the Marin County Board of Education.

Mrs. Sheppard, who had announced her retirement earlier, is leaving after 42 years in nursing. For 25 years she was in general nursing, then came to the county schools department.

Active in professional organizations, Mrs. Sheppard was president of the Marin County Nurses Assn. for five years.

Spencer came to Marin County from Kern County in 1948, one year after a separate audio-visual department had been set up for this county. Previously it had been under direct supervision of the county superintendent.

Under Spencer's guidance, it has grown into a large and effective library of audio-visual

CLARENCE SPENCER Leaves schools system

Under Spencer's guidance, it has grown into a large and effective library of audio-visual aids, used by practically every Marin public school.

With a background of 35 years in education, during which he served in capacities from teacher to superintendent, Spencer has become a state leader in his field, serving in the highest capacities in various organizations.

Both of the resignations become effective June 30.

Three other resignations were accepted last night. Mrs. Diana W. Young, a teacher of the hard of hearing, resigned because she is moving from the area. Mrs. Thelma Winnie, secretary to Asst. Supt. Edward R. Gredell, resigned because of her health. Mrs. Shirley Endres, secretary to educational coordinator Edwin L. Blackmore, resigned to take another position.

At the same time the board approved hiring Marcia Spitz from the Oakland School District as a teacher of retarded children, and Mrs. Ruth Wilson as a combination senior stenographer-library technician.

Water Directors Due Pay Report

Recommendations of its salary committee will be given to the North Marin County Water District Board at 8 p.m. today in the administration building.

The agreement to extend water service to the second phase of the Novato Fair shopping center will be considered by the board.

A date for studying the 1962-63 budget will be set.

Marin Newlyweds Are Honeymooning

Robert Thomas Alderman, 22, of San Rafael and his bride, the former Katherine Alice Ewert, 19, of Mill Valley were reported honeymooning today somewhere in the Yosemite area.

Because of a makeup error in yesterday's Independent-Journal, the news that they had taken out a marriage license appeared under the heading of "Divorces Asked." It should have been headed "Marriage License Issued."

Planners Don't Want To Take Excursions

Marin County planning commissioners yesterday expressed the hope that the Board of Supervisors won't be sending them off on excursions to personally examine every request for a variance.

Commissioners were confronted with a board request to go out and look at a lot at Mountain View Avenue and Hamilton Lane in Muir Woods Park, where William C. King wants to build a home beyond setback requirements.

The commission had approved King's request on condition there would be room to turn a car around on the site. But when several adjacent property owners complained, supervisors sent the application back with orders for the entire commission to look at the lot.

Commissioners agreed to examine the lot June 18 at 2 p.m. "But it should not set a precedent," insisted Chairman William Upton.

Loma Verde Owners Schedule Meet Tonight

The Loma Verde Homeowners Assn. will hold a general meeting at 8 p.m. today in the Marin Golf and Country Club, according to Abe Granish, president.

The association regularly meets on the first Monday of the month, but officers wanted a general meeting at the Country Club instead of the Loma Verde School, Granish said. The club was not available until tonight, he said.

San Rafael Volunteer Firemen Ordered To Rid Itself Of Official Appearance

The San Rafael Volunteer Fire Department was ordered by the city council last night to divest itself of the appearance that it is an agency of city government.

Councilmen were disturbed over a letter written on San Rafael Volunteer Fire Department stationery to Klein TV, the result of a dispute over a bill, which said that although the department had spent considerable money with the television firm, "our records show you have purchased only five tickets to our Fireman's Ball in the last five years."

The council asked the volunteers to have a representative at last night's meeting "to explain the letter."

As soon as the item was reached on the agenda, Richard Miehl, president of the volunteers, declared, "I'd like the chair to entertain a motion to refer this to the fire commission."

"Is it the desire of any councilmen to make this motion?" asked Mayor John F. McInnis. None spoke.

Miehl then launched into a discussion of the volunteers' dispute over the bill.

"That's your organization's private business," said Councilman Fred E. Jensen. "But the way your letterhead reads, you have given out that you are a sort of semi-official body of the City of San Rafael."

"There is a formal, official fire department that is part of the city," added Mayor McInnis. "You . . . have done the city a grave injustice in this letter."

As Miehl launched into a history of the volunteer department's fire protection work in years past, Councilman Charles W. Aby cut in:

"The San Rafael Volunteer Fire Department as it exists is a social organization and an organization of mutual benefit . . . It's now time to divorce the volunteer fire department from the city's official functions."

Miehl tried to argue further, but was told to reword the volunteer's letterhead to contain some such phrase as "not an official city body." At his request, City Atty. A. E. Bagshaw was authorized to help him with the wording.

Said L. C. Brooks, the volunteers' secretary who wrote the letter, "At the time I wrote it I didn't realize it was going to have such a backfire."

The San Rafael City Council last night also:

1. Set for July 2 a hearing on annexation to Marin Mosquito Abatement District of territory in the Nunes annexation to San Rafael which is not now part of the district.

2. Approved redesign of the city parking lot at Second Street and Lincoln Avenue, submitted by Norris Rawles, which will provide a service station site on the property. City Manager Dan E. Andersen was authorized to seek bids on construction and lease of a service station. The redesigning will cut the number of parking spaces from 222 to 154 until additional land is paved to provide for more stalls, said Rawles.

3. Hired Edward John Johansson as senior engineering aide at $427 per month.

4. Put over to the next regular meeting appointment to fill a vacancy on the Parks and Recreation commission. Councilmen agreed the new appointee should be "a parks man."

Belvedere Salaries Lashed

By CORENA GREEN

Two interested citizens last night in a two-page letter, carefully documented with statistics and addressed to the Belvedere City Council, challenged the pay scale of Belvedere's police department.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Fraas stated "the salaries paid police officers are the lowest in the county, yet the Belvedere-Tiburon area, to which our officers are restricted for living quarters, is one of the most expensive in which to live."

The Fraasses said the starting pay for patrolmen is $65 to $250 a month behind other cities in the county; no uniform allowance is granted, and the men are not compensated for overtime.

The letter compared Belvedere specifically to Ross, where the chief makes $575 a month and is furnished a home and utilities. Belvedere's chief makes $550 and $75 is deducted from that for rent.

The Fraasses recommended establishing a commission to set up qualifications for police candidates, investigate and interview candidates, and develop a merit system.

The letter asked if Belvedere were employing untrained men, training them and then losing them to other police departments.

City Manager Britton Rey

hinted that the new budget might take care of some of this problem. He added that he felt the department was a big happy family and all who worked for the city get regular raises.

"Only two have left voluntarily," he said. "One to become undersheriff and another to take an inside job at a similar salary."

Mayor Robert P. Watkins added he felt the policemen are persistent and conscientious.

Mrs. Fraas, who was in the audience, said she thought $350 as a starting salary was pretty sad.

Watkins replied he was in no position to judge until he saw the results of a study being made by the Marin Council of Mayors on the salaries of civil employees. The study will be presented at the council of mayors' next meeting. The Belvedere council postponed action until the study is made public.

The Belvedere Council also:

1. Rejected the complaint of Robert and Nancy Bagnall that a slide had occurred on their property. City Atty. William H. MacKay said the slide was the result of excavation for a patio by the Bagnalls.

2. Passed an ordinance regulating solicitors.

3. Appointed Berton Jacobson to the planning commission.

4. In answer to several requests, promised to clean up city streets and gutters as soon as manpower becomes available.

5. On recommendation of Councilman Sally Mathews, the next meeting will be preceded by a briefing session by the city manager to explain items on the agenda and provide background.

Newhouse Buys Two Papers

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Samuel I. Newhouse has added New Orleans' only two daily newspapers to his mushrooming publishing empire. He paid more than 37 million dollars, believed to be a record amount for a newspaper property.

Newhouse purchased control of the jointly owned newspapers yesterday by receiving offers to sell 248,925 of the 280,000 outstanding shares in the Times-Picayune Publishing Co.

"These newspapers have a proud history," Newhouse said in New York.

His New York office said Newhouse's offer to buy the remaining 31,075 shares would remain open. He planned to fly to New Orleans "with a check for 42 million dollars in his pocket."

The morning Times-Picayune, which celebrated its 125th anniversary earlier this year, and the afternoon States-Item became the 17th and 18th newspapers in Newhouse's coast-to-coast publishing empire.

Watchdogs Welcome In Belvedere

Thanks to the Ralph M. Brown Act, watchdogs of the treasury found themselves with more opportunity to observe the City of Belvedere's financial structure at a city council meeting last night.

Herbert H. Scheier, a spectator, had recommended that the council's budget hearing be publicized and held early in the meeting so interested citizens could learn of the city's finances.

In the ensuing discussion it developed that three council members (a quorum of the council) constituted the finance committee, and because of the Brown Act could not legally meet in closed session.

Consequently the finance committee will meet next Monday at 8 p.m. in the city manager's office and all watchdogs are welcome to attend.

'Set Record Straight,' President Tells AMA

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy, striking back in the battle for his medical care program, acidly challenged the American Medical Assn. today "to set the record straight" on its policy toward Social Security.

The White House made public a briskly worded letter from Kennedy to Dr. Leonard W. Larson, AMA president, in reply to a message Larson had addressed to the president late last month.

In his letter, Larson charged Kennedy with spreading the impression that the AMA once referred to the Social Security system as a "cruel hoax," and declared this was untrue.

Larson said the AMA never took a position on the Social Security system, never opposed it and even supported one section calling for extension of public health services.

Kennedy had declared a few days earlier at a news conference that the AMA was one of the chief opponents of Social Security in the 1930s.

In his letter to Larson, Kennedy cited actions he said were taken by the AMA in 1939, 1949 and 1953, all critical of Social Security.

"If your organization did not oppose Social Security before its enactment—only afterwards—I will be glad to point out this unique distinction at my next press conference," Kennedy said.

'Feeling Free' Among Top Music Winners At Quentin

A musical ode to a prison cell, a song entitled "Feeling Free," and a hymn called "Come Unto Me" were among the top pieces in the Eighth annual Creative Music Festival at San Quentin Prison Saturday.

Art Pepper, 37, serving a two-to-20 year term for narcotics possession, took the grand prize with his dance tune entitled "4-N-95," the number of his prison cell.

The same tune also gave him first place in the dance category. He took another first place with his arrangement of "Lover Man."

Frank Washington, 32, last year's top winner, managed again to collect the most prizes. He took a first in jazz with "Hush Up," and a first in religious music with "Come Unto Me." He also got seconds in the dance, jazz, popular and arrangement categories. And he took a third in folk music.

Washington, who has been an inmate since 1954, is serving five years to life for first degree burglary and first degree robbery.

Another big winner was Aaron Burton, 28, an inmate since 1953, who reportedly had no prior musical training. His "Thanks" took first in the popular music category. He also took first in folk music with "Feeling Free." In addition, he scored a third in jazz.

Burton is serving one to 20 years for assault with intent to commit rape.

Other winners were Danny Jones, who won a second in folk music and a second and third in religious music, and C. Watts, who won third in popular music.

There were 28 original compositions entered. They were all played for three judges Saturday by the prison band, orchestra or various combos.

Prisoners will hear the winning compositions in a program this Saturday. Then, on June 17, a similar program will be presented for employees, inmates and guests. That program will be outdoors, adjacent to the snack bar.

Judges for the contest were Thompson Chesnut, head of the music department at College of Marin; Dr. Thomas P. Candell, Candell Conservatory of Music, San Francisco, and Phil Bovero, a San Francisco musician.

The festival, sponsored by the Inmate Council, was arranged through prison music director W. H. Day.

Awards were made in canteen coupons. Grand prize was the equivalent of $10. First, second and third prizes in each category were the equivalent of $7, $5 and $3.

A college education doesn't raise many eyebrows in Marin County—because so many people have one. But it does raise standards.

Advance reports of the U.S. Census* show that "you" may claim more years of education than the good citizens of any other county in California.

As the Census puts it, "Median school years completed: 12.6 for persons 25 years and over." Which simply means most adults moved on from high school to higher education (and set a state record in doing it).

Perhaps this level of learning explains the high level of living in Marin County—our fine homes, good architecture, the quality of our schools, the smart, modern stores. Not to mention the highest average incomes in the state.

For learning creates yearnings for the good life, earnings which help obtain it, and the desire to keep on learning.

What a challenge to your home newspaper! An educated public demands more than words and pictures. It looks for ideas; for both sides of an issue; for all sides of the news—and even reads the ads more thoroughly.

This is why the Independent-Journal presents a balanced architecture of national and local news, of entertaining and instructive features, of new and pleasing page design. And why our editorial policy is a lens, reflecting the single most powerful light of an educated community—the open mind.

We'll keep on experimenting with new ideas. For a newspaper, too, may never stop learning. Especially in serving the most "educated" county in California.

Marin is the most educated county in California

This may surprise you—but it shouldn't. Of the 70 Junior Colleges in the state, College of Marin ranks first in academic rating of its graduates on all campuses of the University of California (highest grade point average). This, we feel, is a reflection of the county . . . of its respect for education and of its choice of dedicated administrators and faculty.

Mill Valley Asks Study On Disaster

Mill Valley city councilmen decided at a study session Saturday that, in event of atomic attack, Mill Valley might be hit as badly as San Francisco.

The council also said that, in case of a disaster such as flood, Mill Valley might have to handle refugees from San Francisco and other Bay Area communities. In this case, how to handle the refugees would be taken care of by the county civil defense organization, Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks reported.

City Manager A. E. Almcraus was directed to work with Police Chief Dan Terzich on a system for rapid mobilization of reserve police.

Councilmen George Blackwell and George D. Monardo were appointed as a committee to seek citizen participation in getting a major flood control project through the Army engineers.

The proposed master drainage plan was discussed, the council saying it would endeavor to begin portions of it during fiscal 1962-63.

Action On Subdivision Is Delayed

Marin County planning commissioners yesterday delayed action on another proposed Point Reyes Peninsula subdivision in hope of getting guaranteed county-standard access roads.

Nova Albion Properties, Inc., asked for approval of tentative maps for the first and second units of Nova Albion, a planned 30-lot, 162-acre development east of Drakes Estero and nine miles south of Inverness.

Commissioners, at the suggestion of B. D. Dobbs, county planning director, and David Van Pelt, principal planner, postponed action until June 18.

Dobbs warned of the possibility of another "Drakes Bay Pines subdivision problem" if approval were granted before some assurance of proper access. The 168-acre Drakes Bay development was finally disapproved by the commission and board of supervisors after long legal arguments over access requirements and protests from residents in the area.

No Matter How Election Goes, Marin Goes Ahead

The current political campaign is all over but late voting, ballot count and winners' shouts. Let's shake our heads and forget the pointing with pride, viewing with alarm, sophistry, cliches and political oratory.

Let's think about Marin County. Despite glowing or glowering statements in the campaign, our great area is not going to pot. Neither will it be front-runner in a statewide population expansion that will put half a dozen buildings on each and every acre.

We are moving forward amazingly in new construction. But, thanks to wise provisions for planning, to county and municipal planning commissions and to a vigilant citizenship—thanks to these, the march is in orderly tempo.

Besides hundreds of new residences and scores of modern apartments, an imposing number of business buildings is under construction or on planning boards—all survivors of planning body and citizens' scrutiny; all fitting into far-seeing patterns.

Nearing completion — and already world-famous—is Marin County Civic Center, Frank Lloyd Wright's masterpiece. Its administration building alone will cost five million dollars. Who in Marin doesn't know of this?

A new six-story building will rise at Fourth and C Streets in San Rafael. Nearby, a three-story office building will replace the Elks' Club. The Fifth Avenue Convalescent Hospital nears completion. Dental laboratories and more office facilities for professional occupancy are under way. Pacific Coast Title Co. will erect its new home at Mission Avenue and Nye Street.

Nor is such construction confined to San Rafael. Apartment buildings up to nine stories are rising or planned in Sausalito, for instance. Voters in the College of Marin District vote today on an 11 million dollar expansion for the school, covering a ten-year period. A nine million dollar project to develop Richardson Bay waterfront area into deluxe residential boating facilities has been approved.

These are but a few coming developments. Others range from many outstanding apartments to beautiful residences.

Massive construction programs are a source of pride in many localities, no matter what goes up. There is no "shanty-town" idea in Marin planning. Acreage costs demand solid, substantial buildings. The studies made by planning agencies, plus the aggressive civic-mindedness of private citizens, see to it that all approved plans fully comply with building codes, have provision for streets, and are in architectural harmony with terrain and neighborhood.

Regardless of how today's election goes, Marin is a winner.

MARIN LOOKS AT POLITICS

Not Much Longer To Wait To Get First Hint Of New Governments

By CHAPIN A. DAY

Writing a political column for election day is somewhat like being a sports reporter on an afternoon newspaper during baseball season. Pity the poor sports scribe! He must tell you about yesterday's game and let you know what is coming up tomorrow. Today's afternoon game is being played after he writes his story, but before you get your paper, it will be over. Thus he has to be something of a reporter for yesterday's game, a mystic as to what's happening today, and a prophet about tomorrow.

Happily we're not quite in such bad shape. We just sit here and wait; 7 p.m. will come soon (if you haven't voted yet and it's not 7, better rush down and do it now; don't even finish reading this column). Then the vote counting begins and we'll get our preliminary look at what our new governments may look like after November.

The change could be substantial. Twenty-nine of the Assembly's 80 members are not seeking re-election and there were two vacancies. So there will be at least 31 new faces in the Assembly, even if all the incumbents win—and that's not likely.

There are 382 candidates seeking nomination to 76 Assembly seats. Four Assemblymen seeking re-election are unopposed in either party. The present makeup of the Assembly is 42 Democrats, 34 Republicans, the two vacancies and two who had announced as not seeking re-election. But the redistricting this year undoubtedly gives the Democrats a good chance of improving that majority—barring a GOP landslide.

THE STATE SENATE turnover is not so great, partly because only half of the senators have to run. But here, too, five of the 40 senators will not seek re-election. The Democrats dominate the present Senate 29 to 10 with one vacancy.

In all there are 150 state jobs open. Seeking them are a total of 670 persons.

And what type of person most frequently wants the job? Lawyers, of course. There are 104 attorneys who have their hats in the ring and their necks out today.

THE CYNIC'S CORNER

By Interlandi

"Say! Aren't you the guy that sold me a shelter last year?"

HERE IN MARIN nothing is to be proved by the primaries in the legislative and congressional elections. We have only two congressional candidates, incumbent Clem Miller (D, Corte Madera) and Don Clausen (R, Crescent City); two Assembly candidates, incumbent William T. Bagley (R, San Rafael) and Robert Carrow (D, Novato). The Senate seat occupied by Senator John F. McCarthy (R, San Rafael) isn't vacant at this time. If Jack should win his campaign for election as lieutenant governor, then there'd be a vacancy we'd have to fill. But if he loses, he still has two more years to serve on the current term.

But we've had some other campaigns that have been doozies. In our wanderings across

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

County Clerk George S. Jones withdrew his application for a commercial area adjacent to Strawberry Point and declared he'd never asked "special consideration" by any public body. He blasted rumor-mongers who said he'd tried to get a good deal from the supervisors.

Formal endorsement of a $775,000 bond issue for construction of a Sausalito-Marín City sewage disposal system was voted by the Sausalito City Council.

20 YEARS AGO

Fred Boole of Belvedere told the San Rafael Lions Club that the Bechtel shipyard payroll would be more than 30 million dollars a year.

Sheriff's Deputies Art Fellows and Jack Bones quit their posts and took midnight shift guard jobs at the Bechtel Shipyard Co., claiming their pay was too low. A total of nine sought substantial raises and threatened to accept jobs in national defense industries.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Significant On Memorial Day

EDITOR,

Independent-Journal:

The Memorial Day issue of the Independent-Journal carried one significant article that gave tribute to the spirit of the day. Not those on the front page that told of the parades and ceremonies for the dead, but the one which told of the quiet conviction of a mother who did not participate in the pledge of allegiance and singing of the national anthem in a school program at Stinson Beach.

In her way she made a protest against the tremendous human sacrifice made to the god of war. Her point that the national anthem is a battle hymn, is a good one.

The mothers may have won the baseball game against their third and fourth graders, but they lost an important opportunity for a lesson in mature citizenship. Their hysterical attack against Mrs. Dawson shows a lack of confidence in their government. A true American is not afraid of criticism, but seeks ever to make his country stronger and better by living up to its highest principles.

Disturbing To See Name Calling

EDITOR,

Independent-Journal:

Possibly a psychiatrist would have an explanation for it—a hidden insecurity or a reaction to the stress of life in a world which has the power to destroy itself.

Whatever the reason, it is deeply disturbing to read news accounts and also "letters to the editor" which concern name-calling, insults, accusations of insults regarding our fellow men.

Rapidly our people seem to be losing their self reliance, self confidence and individual strength. In their place they have substituted the security of the association of sheep and the self righteous feeling induced by the accusation of "guilt by lack of association," in other words if you don't conform you're either a communist or at least something just as bad. We seem to have lost a sense of tolerance which, if you will remember, was the principal basis for the founding of this country.

I realize that the exercise of tolerance is a relative thing—that is, it can be overcome. However, whether I agree with the person or not, I respect their right to object, on religious or moral grounds, to saluting the flag or singing the national anthem.

I also respect the beliefs, and certainly do not call "ad-lib-brained," any marchers for peace. I'm sure we all want peace—we just differ on the methods of achieving it. The people who have been so oppressive in their exercise of intolerance are attempting to impose upon other individuals that which they would fight if attempted by government—REGIMENTATION.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

John D. Rockefeller Sr., never considered exactly a spendthrift, was accosted outside his office by a smooth-talking panhandler who announced, "Mr. Rockefeller, I hooped it 30 miles down here just to meet you, and everybody I met assured me you were the most generous man in New York."

Mr. Rockefeller thought this over for a minute, then asked quietly, "Are you going back by the same route?" "Probably," said the panhandler. "Aha," nodded J. D., "in that case you can do me a great favor. Deny the rumor."

Frances Parkinson Keyes tells about a Cajun horse-trading wizard west of New Orleans who gave a prospective customer a big build-up on a nag he wanted to sell and concluded, "that horse is not only the most beautiful and speediest in the whole parish, but he is one great actor as well. When you go down to the paddock to see him, just watch that old devil act like he's gone lame!"

A policeman heard a loud argument going on inside a shop. Investigating, he found nobody on the premises but the owner. "I get bored when there are no customers around," explained the owner sheepishly, "so I often start an argument with myself."

"Okay," conceded the cop, "but what was all the yelling about?"

"If there's one thing I can't tolerate," said the owner, "it's a liar."

Too Many Trespass Signs And Fees Mar California Beaches

A HOLIDAY TRIP to the beaches left my wife and I disappointed. Everywhere we went where the beach looked worthy of exploring were "No trespassing" signs or $1 or $2 to use the beach.

It brought home to us one fact that will haunt this area more and more as the years go on. That is that California needs—in fact must have—more public beaches.

There are those of us that believe that area of fun and mystery, where the sea and land meet and merge, should belong to everyone. There is something just a little irking when one reads into those signs: "God made it, but I'm collecting on it."

THIS SUMMER, many Californians will be traveling north to the Seattle World's Fair. They may take the Coast Route through Oregon and Washington. I'm sure they will come back with a different concept of public beaches then. The entire coast along those two states is open and free to the public. The only private beaches are those on the inland waters of Puget Sound.

If California is going to keep attracting tourists—both from within and without its borders—it must have more public beaches.

The Point Reyes National Seashore is a big step in the right direction. But this is only one area of beach and is being created as a resort by the Federal government. The State and County must also get into the act before the property becomes too expensive to buy for recreational purposes.

ALL OVER the area there is growing resentment against the all-digit phone numbers. There are rumblings from one end of Marin County to the other. A few organizations are being formed to protest and oppose the phone companies on it.

However, Novato has one man who doesn't protest; he does something about it. Realtor James Picchi went back to using the prefix "TW" instead of 89 for his phone listings.

"Let the phone company squawk if it wants to," Picchi said. "I'm going back to the familiar listing whether they like it or not."

ONE OF THE FUNNIEST bits of legislation we have ever witnessed came several months ago at the Novato City Council.

City Administrator J. Julien Baget put in a routine request to attend a convention of city managers. The item had been budgeted, but Baget put it in as a routine request.

Councilmen John Angeloni and Everett Pozzi thought they would have a little fun at Baget's expense and voted against it. They depended on the other three councilmen to defeat them.

However, Councilman M. E. (Babe) Silva pulled a switch and voted with them, defeating the motion to allow Baget to attend.

All the councilmen—and Baget—looked quite surprised. However, later they reconsidered their action and gave Baget permission to go to the convention.

That little piece of tomfoolery was gone, but not forgotten.

At the last council meeting, Baget had a routine request for Building Inspector Fred Westfall to attend a convention in Santa Rosa.

Baget asked the council if it wanted each of these budgeted requests brought up as special items at council meetings.

Councilman Angeloni assured him that they did.

"We want the privilege of turning them down once in a while," Angeloni said, with a big grin.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

JFK Heading For Showdown With AFL-CIO Over Short Week

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy is discovering how difficult it is to be loved by business and labor at the same time. He finds it just about impossible.

When he was forcing the steel industry to rescind its price increase, Kennedy was the toast of organized labor.

Now that he has turned the red light against AFL-CIO President Meany's national crusade for a 35-hour week at the same take-home pay, Kennedy suddenly finds his labor supporters cool and critical.

THE TRUTH is that the President has not changed his position at all. He laid down certain guide-lines he believes should prevail in labor-management contracts in basic industries to avoid an inflationary wage-price spiral.

It is understandable that industry would be shocked by the cold power display the White House unleashed against the steel-price rise. It will be understandable if organized labor reacts in the same way, should the White House respond with equal vigor to Meany's project to cut the work-week five hours at a time when the greatest need is more production, not less.

Labor leaders cannot quite believe that the administration will marshal its powers and influence as violently against Meany of the AFL-CIO as it did against Roger Blough of U.S. Steel. If I were Meany I wouldn't be too sure.

THE PRESIDENT wants to dissolve the lacerated business-government relations following the steel crisis. He has every incentive; nothing would be more disastrous to the administration than a radical tax revenue drop.

The administration took concrete actions to show it means what it says. One is the Treasury announcement that shortly a more rapid depreciation rate will be authorized to help industry acquire the capital to modernize plant and equipment. This new allowance will mean a minimum of 1.25 billion dollars in tax savings to all businesses this year.

The administration's second pro-business action is support of an investment tax credit, now pending in Congress. If enacted, this would provide an additional 1.4 billion dollars in benefits.

The President's toughest test in using governmental power to prevent what he deems an inflationary price or wage increase is still to come. When he went up against steel, he did not affront his political supporters. But when he comes up against a big union insistence upon an inflationary wage rise, he will affront political supporters.

My assumption is that Kennedy will stand against labor's inflationary wage demands as he stood against steel-price increase. His whole economic, fiscal, and trade policies will be a shambles if he doesn't.

Council Unsatisfied With Phone Answer

San Rafael city councilmen were unsatisfied last night with a phone company official's explanation of why the company has taken the letters off telephone numbers.

Robert Glynn, division manager for Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., appeared in response to a council request that the company tell why it has changed "GL" to "45," "ED" to "33," etc., on Marin's phone dials.

But when he had finished, Mayor John F. McInnis said:

"I would ask Mr. Flynn to convey right on up the ladder in his company that at least there is one town that has found no one who likes the new arrangement."

It was left at that, although Councilman Louis H. Baar suggested a protest to the California Public Utilities Commission.

Flynn, who was introduced by Douglas Horton, district commercial manager for the company, said he wished "to apologize for any failure on our part to inform our customers in Marin. . . . We are certainly not playing the numbers game."

He said the all-number dialing had been decided on after a series of tests in Bell Laboratories in 1957. Marin is not the first or second place it has been tried, he said. There are now 13 million phones on the system.

"We must prepare now for programs 10 and 25 years hence," said Flynn. In 1964, he said, direct dialing to Japan will be possible.

"I feel as sure as I'm standing here that we will be dialing international calls via satellite communication," he declared.

A new system to be introduced in September will enable Marinites to dial into the nationwide direct-dialing hook-up by simply dialing "1," Flynn announced.

All this was very interesting, said Mayor McInnis. "I think you put your local customers to a tremendous amount of fuss for the possibility of saving a few seconds in calling out of state. . . . The average telephone user isn't just about to pick up the phone and call Russia or England."

Councilman Baar said he had been deluged with complaints since residents learned the council was interesting itself in the phone number change.

McInnis asked if it were not true that in some areas of the east the phone user now must dial 10 or 12 numbers. Flynn admitted it was.

Hugh McCann of 26 Sunset Way, a public relations man, suggested retaining the letters but rearranging them so that all 10 dial holes would provide multiple use. Flynn said this had been proposed before but Bell Telephone scientists ruled it out.

"I think the phone company has fumbled the ball in a major way in explaining to the public," declared McCann.

As Flynn went into such possible future telephone uses as dialing home to turn on the electric stove, Mayor McInnis commented:

"I wonder if sometimes you don't get carried away with your electronic marvels."

Baar declared it is the phone company's responsibility to make telephone use as easy as it can. "I think you're doing the reverse," he said.

Flynn said the changeover had been cleared with the Public Utilities Commission and regulatory bodies. In answer to an audience question, he said no public hearings on it had been held by the PUC. "Normally there would not be for this type of operation," he declared.

Flynn repeatedly offered to spend whatever time is necessary to explain "the whole system" to anyone who will call at his San Francisco office.

"No matter how much of the phone company's time we took up with explanations, we're going to wind up with digits whether we like it or not," said Councilman Fred E. Jensen. "It won't do any good but I think we should go on record as protesting it."

ROBERT H. PRATHER
Back to alma mater

Trustees Name Prather Tam High Principal

A 1932 graduate of Tamalpais High School will return to the Mill Valley school as its principal.

Robert H. Prather, 47, of San Geronimo, was named Tam High principal last night by the Tamalpais District board of trustees. He succeeds Richard L. Campion of Greenbrae, who resigned to return to classroom teaching.

Prather, an active of Ukiah, has been the district's coordinator of child welfare and attendance for four years. Prior to that he was counselor and science teacher at Sir Francis Drake High, transferring there from Tamalpais where he had taught since 1944. Prather began his teaching career in Madera in 1940.

A graduate of the College of Marin and San Francisco State College, Prather attended Fairfax elementary schools and Tamalpais High. He received a master's degree from San Francisco State and has also done graduate work at Oregon State and University of California.

Prather has long been active in community affairs, notably with the Presbyterian Church, YMCA, and American Field Service.

He has three children. Hale will be a junior next year at University of California. Nancy is a sophomore at College of Marin, and Margaret a sophomore at Drake.

Treasure Island, site of the 1939-40 Golden Gate International Exposition, is now owned by the government.

Tongue-In-Cheek Advice For Parents

CHESTERFIELD, England (AP)—The Archdeacon of Chesterfield today gave his Church of England parishioners a handy guide on "How to turn your child into a crook."

Drawing a bead on indulgent parents, the Venerable Talbot Dilworth-Harrison listed these 12 rules in his parish magazine:

1. Begin from infancy to give the child everything he wants. In this way he will grow up to believe that the world owes him a living.

2. When he picks up bad words, laugh at him. It will encourage him to pick up "gutter phrases" that will blow the top of your head off later.

3. Never give him any spiritual training. Wait until he is 21, and then let him decide for himself.

4. Avoid the use of the word wrong. It may develop a guilt complex. This will condition him to believe later when he is arrested for stealing a car that society is against him and he is being persecuted.

5. Pick up everything he leaves lying around—books, shoes and clothes. Do everything for him so he will be experienced in throwing the responsibility on to others.

6. Let him read any printed matter he can get his hands on. Be careful the silverware and drinking glasses are sterilized but let his mind feed on garbage.

7. Quarrel frequently in the presence of the children. Then they won't be shocked when the home is broken up.

8. Give the child all the spending money he wants.

Never let him earn his own. Why should he have things as tough as you had them?

9. Satisfy his every craving for food, drink and comfort. See that every desire is gratified. Denial may lead to harmful frustration.

10. Take his part against the neighbors, teachers and policemen. They are all prejudiced against your child.

11. When he gets into real trouble, apologize for yourself by saying, "I never could do anything with him."

12. Prepare for a life of grief—"You will have it."

Drake Student Body Is Expected To Reach 1,580 Next September

Sir Francis Drake High School next September will have up to 1,580 students, about 150 more than at present and about 80 beyond present capacity, Supt. Chester G. Carlisle of the Tamalpais Union High School District announced last night.

The school now has 1,428 students.

Carlisle's disclosure came as the district trustees received a report from Ralph B. Priestley of the architectural firm of Gromme and Priestley regarding portable classrooms to be put on Drake lawns.

Carlisle was authorized to continue investigating possibility of purchasing two to four portable classrooms manufactured by Transit Structures, a Southern California firm.

Priestley told the board a model costing about $12,000 was considered most practical and economical. It is a 24-by-32-foot wood frame structure with sheet rock interior, acoustical tile ceiling, fluorescent lighting and electric heat.

Last night's meeting was held in the library of Sir Francis Drake High School following a tour of that school instead of at the usual meeting place in Redwood High School.

The Tamalpais Trustees Also:

1. Heard from Carlisle that he is negotiating with owners of the Ottoloni ranch property regarding exact boundaries and price to be paid for land for the district's new high school in San Geronimo Valley.

2. Rescheduled for June 18 the district's request several weeks ago for deed "forthwith" to 32 acres of Marin City land purchased in 1959 for about $66,000. Carlisle said he had asked Leland H. Jordan, counsel for the Marin County Housing Authority, to report to trustees on the request. Jordan did not appear last night.

3. Approved appointment of three new teachers: Glenn J. Roberts, 49, of Daly City, San Francisco State College print shop instructor for the past three years, to operate Tamalpais High School print shop; Judith Lee Bennett, 22, of San Francisco, to teach English at Redwood High School, and Miss Lenore Bercovich, 24, of Oakland to teach science and Russian at Tamalpais High School; and approved list of 82 teachers for summer classes June 20 to July 20 at the three district high schools.

4. Authorized Carlisle to sign an agreement with town of Corte Madera under which the federal government may inspect one or more Redwood High School buildings for possible selection as bomb fallout shelter.

5. Approved working drawings for new counseling area in additions being built at Redwood High School.

6. Approved $53,739 for extra service contracts for extra pay to teachers who serve in capacities beyond their basic jobs.

7. Adjourned until 8:30 p.m. June 18 at Tamalpais High School, meeting to be preceded by trustees' tour of school beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Drake Students Pick President

Michael Leon was elected student body president at Sir Francis Drake High School, San Anselmo, Sunday in an election which will send students back to the polls to vote on run-off candidates for school song leaders.

None of three groups running for song leaders received a majority. Top teams to be voted on late next week are the Rag-Time Mates and the Sea Gals.

Other student body officers elected yesterday are: Bruce Come, vice president; Judy Mulder, secretary; Rita Scardaci, who ran unopposed, treasurer; Doris Foote, also running unopposed, yell leader with team including Bonnie Hoag, Ronald Brandon and Robert Ahola.

Schnabel Will Speak To Fuchsia Group

Clement Schnabel, past president of the American Fuchsia Society and eminent hybridizer, will be guest speaker at the Redwood Shade Garden Club meeting Friday at 8 p.m. at Whittaker Hall of St. Stephen's Church, Belvedere.

Schnabel will advise gardeners planning to exhibit at the forthcoming Marin Art and Garden Show, where the club has had prize winning entries for the past several years.

100 Apply For County School Jobs At San Quentin Prison

There are more than 100 applicants for jobs of principal of the adult high school in San Quentin Prison and of director of instruction materials, the Marin County Board of Education was told last night.

Sixty persons have applied for the principalship of Bayview High School, inside San Quentin's walls, and 52 are seeking retiring Clarence Spencer's job as head of all audiovisual materials.

Board President Adele J. Alpers reported that the 60 seeking to replace Principal N. H. McCollum, at San Quentin, who is retiring, had been narrowed to seven candidates for final screening and interviews on Saturday.

The 52 have applied for Spencer's job although he decided to retire only a little over two weeks ago. The personnel

Mill Valley Crash Victim Is Improving

Bernard L. Sankey, Mill Valley resident whose wife Celeste was killed in an automobile accident near Sonoma Sunday, was reported in fair condition today at Mount Zion Hospital in San Francisco.

Sankey suffered fractures of both arms and legs in the head-on crash on Highway 37. He was in critical condition yesterday.

Private funeral services will be held for Mrs. Sankey Thursday at 11 a.m., at Halsted & Co., 1128 Sutter Street, San Francisco. Friends may call at the mortuary this evening and tomorrow evening. Entombment will be at Woodlawn Memorial Park, Colma.

Mrs. Sankey, 24, was born and reared in San Francisco. She was valedictorian of her graduating class at George Washington High School and a graduate of Zweegman School for Medical Secretaries in San Francisco. Mrs. Sankey was employed as a medical secretary until the birth a year ago of daughter Suzanne Rene, by whom she is survived. Her daughter is being cared for by Mrs. Sankey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Finocchio, in San Francisco.

The Sankeys were married at the Calvary Presbyterian Church in San Francisco Aug. 16, 1958. They lived in San Bruno before moving to 224 California Avenue, Mill Valley last September. Sankey is an employee of Levi Strauss Co. in San Francisco.

Also killed in Sunday's crash was David Charles, 24, of Kenwood.

The County Board Of Education Also:

1. Appointed Mrs. Nancy Rust Cole, attending her first meeting since her recent marriage to former board member Theodore V. Cole, to the course of study review committee.

2. Appointed Dr. Frederick J. Saam and Harry Press as a committee to suggest names for appointment to the extended year term of three board members, Mrs. Alpers, Mrs. Cole and Walter L. Johnson, whose regular terms expire June 30 but who do not come up for re-election for another year due to a quirk in newly passed state law. An opinion from the county counsel indicated that the most satisfactory way of complying with the complicated law is to reappoint the three for the additional year and if they don't want to serve, they should resign.

3. Approved a request to the state for $10,324 as an emergency apportionment for the orthopedically handicapped program in the county.

4. Granted permission for the county superintendent to apply for a temporary loan of up to $10,000 to carry the county office over the "lean" period of June and July before more school funds are available.

5. Authorized county participation in the Bay Region Instructional Television in Education at a cost of $1,596.67 and in the Bay Area Educational Research Service at a cost of $350.

6. Accepted a gift of $1,800 from United Cerebral Palsy of Marin for an additional day of speech therapy at Marinale School during the current school year, and a $5 gift from Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Griffin of San Rafael for crippled children services.

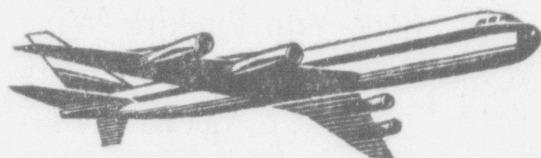

7. Authorized the first graduation ceremony for Marinale School when one eighth grader will complete his studies June 14 at 1 p.m. and a graduation for eight retarded children from Neil Cummings School June 13 at 7:30 p.m. at Corte Madera Recreation Center.

8. Authorized summer school

New Cub Pilot Faces Giants

CHICAGO (AP)—They couldn't have given popular Charlie Metro a tougher spot to start directing a major league club. He takes over the Chicago Cubs today just in time to meet the National League leading San Francisco Giants, who've won 11 of their last 12 games and reopened a two-game margin. Metro, known to Pacific Coast fans as Vancouver's PCL manager from 1957-59, becomes the third "head coach" of the Cubs this year. Elvin Tappe started and when he had a 4-16 record, Lou Klein took over and had a 12-18 mark. The overall 16-34 leave the Cubs in ninth place. San Francisco manager Alvin Dark plans a left-handed pitching assault with Billy O'Dell, Mike McCormick and Billy Pierce on the firing line for the three-game series. Scheduled to face O'Dell today was Bob Buhl, the former Milwaukee Braves right-hander with a 3-3 record. After picking up one of the triumphs against New York in relief, O'Dell stands at 6-3.

Dark has made one change in his lineup, naming Tom Haller, the tall, former University of Illinois quarterback, as his regular catcher, replacing Ed Bailey. Haller caught all four games in the sweep over the Mets this past weekend and he contributed some key hits. Defensively, the Giants have always appreciated Haller's talents but he was sent to Tacoma of the PCL for further seasoning last season when he failed to hit with any consistency. Dark may also have to go with a replacement for Jimmy Davenport who suffer a painful back bruise when hit by a thrown ball in New York. Manny Mota, the handy andy of the squad, probably will get the call at third base if Davenport needs further rest.

Felipe Alou continues to have trouble with his right elbow. When he was out previously, the Giants lost three straight. But his return sparked renewed winning ways. Willie McCovey, who came up with some sparkling outfield play, may go in for Alou especially when right-handed pitchers oppose the Giants.

Jimenez, Belinsky Head Race For American League's Rookie Honors

BOSTON (AP)—Who has the inside track for American League rookie honors this year—Bo Belinsky, Manny Jimenez or another bright newcomer?

League headquarters, not wanting to seem partial, left the answer up to fan discussion today when it issued a report on the 43 rookies on squad rosters. The home office notes that about 20 already have bid strongly for recognition.

Southpaw whiz Bolinsky, of no-hit fame appears the current choice on the defensive side of the ledger. The glib Los Angeles hurler has a 6-2 record and a glittering 2.51 earned run average to go along with the A.L.'s first no-hitter since 1958.

Offensively, Kansas City outfielder Jimenez heads the race for the hitting crown by consistently turning back challenges from veteran stickmen. The Dominican Republic native is batting .362. A lefthanded swinger, he has mastered the art of hitting to the opposite field.

Kansas City and Los Angeles rank one-two in rookie population. The A's have eight, including catcher Joe Azcue and third baseman Ed Charles, who came in the deal that brought Jimenez from Milwaukee. The others are outfielder Jose Tartabull, plus pitchers Dave Wickersham (6-1 including last six in a row, 2.70 ERA), John Wyatt, Dan Pfister and Diego Segui.

The Angels' six are promising catcher Bob Rodgers, infielders Felix Torres and Tom Burgess, and pitchers Dean Chance and Bob Botz.

How about co-league leaders New York and Cleveland?

Switch-hitting Mike Tresh handles shortstop so well for the Yankees that there is talk predecessor Tony Kubek will be an outfielder after he returns from service. Tresh has socked home 27 runs with his workmanlike .270 batting average.

More recently, outfielder-first baseman Joe Pepitone has blossomed into a dangerous slugger for the defending world champs with 10 extra base blows and 10 RBI to show for 21 hits.

Cleveland is impressed by its rookie outfielders, Al Luplow and Ty Cline.

Second baseman Bernie Allen plus righthanded pitchers Joe Bonikowski and Lee Stange get a major assist in helping the surprising Minnesota Twins remain close to the pace. Allen is a steady glove man and gets extra mileage out of his .247 average. Bonikowski has a 4-4 record, and Stange (1-0) has struck out 29 in 35 innings.

Minnesota's Dick Rollins, hitting .335, is not classed as a rookie though he had only 17 at bats in 13 games last year.

Coast-to-Coast
NEWSPAPERS
SELL THE MOST!

Reason: He accumulated more than 45 days on a major league roster during the period of the 25-player limit.

Chicago claims "the strongest, most accurate arm in baseball" for outfielder Mike Hershberger (.274, 22 RBI), and has five complete games out of righthander Joe Horlen (5-2).

Though temporarily eclipsed by a leg injury, 6-5, 235-pound John (Boog) Powell of Baltimore is a strong contender for rookie laurels. The Orioles rate him the best ever produced by their farm system. In the 37 games he's played, Powell has hit six homers and driven in 21 runs while hitting .268.

Pitcher Dave Stenhouse has proved a rugged foe as his 3-1 record for last-place Washington attests.

Boston offers a battery of giants, righthanded relief pitcher Dick Radatz (6-6, 240) and catcher Bob Tillman (6-4, 210). Radatz has 37 strikeouts and a 2.17 earned run average for 29½ innings.

Tillman has five tape-measure homers, 12 RBI since winning the regular assignment May 20.

Venturi Will Be Missing When U.S. Open Begins On June 14

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ask the nation's golf professionals to pick the fellow tourist with the No. 1 picture swing and game and chances are a majority would nominate Ken Venturi.

The same Venturi will be among the missing when a field of 150 tees off for the start of the U.S. Open Championship at Oakmont, Pa., June 14.

Venturi was the best-known casualty yesterday as the final stage of qualifying began for the National Open. The 31-year-old San Francisco pro, who had the Masters championship in his pocket and lost it in 1958 and again in 1960, failed to make the grade in the 36-hole sectional competition at Memphis, where he and many others took the test a day after competing in the Memphis Open.

Bill Collins and Jim Ferree also missed out, as did former British Open champion Kei Nagle of Australia, as 50 berths in the U.S. Open were determined at Memphis and in sectionals at Cincinnati, Dallas, Kansas City, Denver and Tacoma, Wash.

Eighty-one more spots will be contested for today at seven other locations, topped by the Montclair N.J., sectional where the $100,000 Classic Open begins on Thursday.

Sam Snead, winner of everything else in golf except the Open, heads a Montclair lineup that also includes Bob Rosburg, Paul Harney, Phil Rodgers, Bobby Nichols, Stan Leonard, Earl Steward, Jack Fleck and Don Fairfield. Other tests in Pittsburgh, Chicago, Detroit, Atlanta, Washington, D.C., and

San Francisco will complete the two days of qualifying for the 131 non-exempt berths in America's premier tournament. Nineteen players, including defending champion Gene Littler, were totally exempt from the eliminations that began two weeks ago.

Bad News In Salmon Trolling, But Clam Take Has Been Good

Let's get the bad news over in a hurry. Salmon trolling is very much on the slow side with rough seas chasing the boats back to the barn on Sunday, and only a few fish per boat on Friday and Saturday with those caught being juveniles.

Bass fishing in the back country seems to have slowed down to a walk, and on the Contra Costa side of the San Pablo it was barely moving.

Okay, that's over with. Now for some better, brighter items of news. The clam and abalone hunters fared very well in protected waters, the coasters not so well account of rough seas—but to get back to steeper striving in the local areas. By far the most exciting item is the report of large fish being taken or lost by bait fishermen in the Corridor sector.

JOE NERVIANI of Joe's Launching at Santa Venetia called to tell me that several bait tossers were bawling the fact that they had hooked large bass but lost them through broken leaders and snapped lines. Seems that the stripers in that region are hep to the comparative safety of the pilings, so when hooked they slip between them and cut the lines. As a result some of the boys who were wont to use light tackle and low test lines, went to 36 pound test lines. Even then they suffered broken lines.

Sounds like a fish story, eh? We might have passed it off at that, if one chap, Ed Mythaler of San Rafael, hadn't told a tale of losing two very large bass and then having to settle for a wee fish of 18 pounds. Other fish from 10 to 18 pounds also were landed. Joe told me the best action was had about 1½ hours before the high tide.

On Sunday Fred Reigelhuth and Ed Cadra took four bass to four pounds from the Shell Bank. Alice Quan of China Camp reported around eight limits of small bass to 20 inches taken over the weekend, but rough water prevented her boats from making it to Corridor.

The boys who have been drift fishing with live shiners sure have done a job ever since Friday.

Example: Frank Fazio took Morry Hunter and George Hersh trolling on the Berkeley Flats on Friday. Came back to port with limits by 8 a.m., on Saturday, with Vern Sgamba and son, Fazio netted three limits to 15 pounds by 7 a.m., and on Sunday with the same two friends landed limits again by 7 a.m. Friday, the Troller landed six limits to 15 pounds in the Alcatraz sector, and on Saturday came back to port with 15 bass to 22 pounds same area. The Sea Bee had 10 bass to 15 pounds off Alcatraz on Saturday, and the Cherokee came home at 7 a.m. with six limits to 11 pounds, and Frank Steffens limited out to 15 pounds in the same area.

ON THE DISTAFF side we hail Mrs. Elizabeth Cervantez Jr. for the 62 inch, 56 pound sturgeon she brought in to Joe's Launching recently.

OUT AT SECOND — Sandy Koufax, Los Angeles Dodger pitcher, wasn't as fast with his feet as he was with his pitches last night as he was called out trying to stretch a single into a double during the second inning of the Dodgers 6-3 win over the Philadelphia Phillies. Phil's second baseman Tony Taylor puts on the tag. Ken Burkhardt is the umpire. Koufax had a great night on the mound as he struck out 13 batters for a seasonal total of 122, best in the majors. (AP Wirephoto)

Runs Batted In Lead Taken By Norm Siebern

NEW YORK (AP)—While rookie Manny Jimenez of Kansas City continues to lead the American League in batting, teammate Norm Siebern has forged to the front in runs batted in.

Siebern, acquired by the Athletics in the deal that sent Roger Maris to the New York Yankees before the 1960 season, displaced injured Al Kaline of Detroit as the RBI leader. The bespectacled first baseman drove in five during the week for a total of 39, one more than Kaline.

JIMENEZ SLUMPS

Jimenez, meanwhile, hung onto the batting lead despite a slump. The outfielder from the Dominican Republic sports a .362 average even though he lost 30 points on 3-for-19.

Runner-up Chuck Essegian of the Cleveland Indians also had a poor week at the plate, his average skidding 32 points to .347. He went 4-for-21.

Kaline, sidelined with a fractured collarbone, climbed a notch from fourth to third without swinging a bat. His average remained at .336.

WILLIAMS AHEAD

In the National League, outfielder Billy Williams of the Chicago Cubs maintained the lead with a .359 mark. His average was hiked eight points with 11-for-27.

The Phil's Tony Gonzalez enjoyed the biggest gain, a 16-point increase, as he climbed from a seventh place tie a week ago to second at .347. A 12-for-29 performance accounted for the upsurge.

Orlando Cepeda of San Francisco dropped a notch from second to third at .341. He went 10-for-34 and lost eight points.

Willie Mays of the Giants hit four homers during the week to boost his national league-leading output to 19. Los Angeles' Tommy Davis took over the RBI lead from Cepeda with 55. Jim Gentile of Baltimore remains the American League home run leader with 15.

'Strikeouts Nice,' But Koufax Has Sights On 20-Win Season

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

If anything fits Sandy Koufax to a T, it's a K.

The Los Angeles Dodgers' whiff king added another flock of strikeout symbol K's to his amazing total last night, fanning 13 batters en route to a three-mit, 6-3 victory over Philadelphia in the only game played in either league.

The triumph, moving second-place Los Angeles within two games of National League-leading San Francisco, boosted Koufax' record to 8-2 and further propelled the 26-year-old left-hander along the road to what he wants most—a 20-victory campaign.

"Strikeouts are nice to have," says Koufax, "but I wouldn't trade a 20-victory season for all the strikeout records in the book."

Koufax has quite a bit to trade with.

He's the only pitcher in major league history to strike out 18 twice, hold the league record for 269 strikeouts in one season and fan 10 or more 36 times—all during an eight-year career. But his 18-13 record last year was the closest he's come to winning 20.

Koufax's standout effort against the Phils gave him a total of 123 strikeouts in 101 innings this season, marked his fourth consecutive complete game triumph and gave him a string of 10-16-10-13 set down via the strikeout route over the four-game span.

The Dodger swiftly allowed a leadoff single to Tony Taylor in the first inning, then retired 17 batters in order before Taylor walked in the seventh. He tired in the ninth, allowing John Callison's single, a walk to Roy Sievers and a pinch-hit homer by Jackie Davis with two out.

The Dodgers pulled ahead to stay against Art Mahaffey (5-7), winless in seven starts against Los Angeles, with a run in the first on Maury Wills' single, his steal of second and bunt singles by Willie Davis and Tommy Davis. The Dodgers chased Mahaffey in the second when Wally Moon and John Roseboro tagged consecutive homers leading off the inning.

The Dodgers move over to Pittsburgh tonight for a twinnight with the Pirates while the Giants, who have held the top spot by winning 11 of 12, will be at Chicago for a day game, Cincinnati is at St. Louis, Milwaukee at Houston and New York at Philadelphia for other nighters on a full program.

It'll be Stan Williams (5-1) and Don Drysdale (8-3) for the Dodgers against Earl Francis (2-2) and Bob Friend (5-6). The Giants will send Jack Sanford (6-4) or Billy O'Dell (6-3) against the Cubs Bob Buhl (3-3).

The American League spotlight falls on New York, where Cleveland's surprising Indians and the defending world champion Yankees open a 3-game series that will determine first place in the tight race bracketing five teams within 2½ games of the league lead.

The Indians will start Jim Grant (3-0), on furlough from the Army, while Ralph Terry

(6-4) will take the mound for the Yanks. Grant defeated Terry and the Yankees 7-1 with a five-hitter in an earlier meeting. Cleveland has taken five of the seven games between the two clubs, tied for first place with 27-19 records.

Third-place Minnesota, a half-game back of the leaders, will be trying to gain ground by knocking off visiting Kansas City. Fourth-place Detroit, only one game out of first, is at Boston, fifth-place Los Angeles is home to Chicago and Washington is at Baltimore. The entire American League program will be played under the lights.

Let's Take A Real Look At Who's Booin' Mays In San Francisco

Who's booin' Willie Mays?

That is the topic of conversation in the pubs since the Noo Yawkers threw a wing ding of acclaim for the San Francisco Giant outfielder.

No player since Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig ever got a comparable ovation. Even the 'Say Hey Kid' had tears of joy in his eyes as his spinal nerves jumped, jerked and jiggled. He really was touched. He said he could have bawled, he was so happy.

So the Gotham writers naturally ask what the hell is the matter with those San Francisco fans? Why, they ask, do they boo Willie?

I've tried for a long time to solve the booes, and the Bronx cheers Mays, at times, gets at Candlestick Park. And I've just decided that it isn't the San Francisco fans who boo Willie, but former Brooklyn Dodger and former Giant followers who have transplanted themselves in the "City that Knows How."

Willie got some boos in the Polo Grounds, if you had your ears glued to the radio. But they were Dodger fans who saw him perform again in Noo Yawk.

AND THAT, in the opinion of this old observer, is the true story of the booin' Mays sometimes gets in S.F.

If you analyze the situation, you can understand it very easily. San Francisco wouldn't have been given a big league franchise if the population did not warrant it. So where did the crowd come from? Some from the east, others from the midwest and still others from the south. So all these interlopers, now known as S.F. citi-

Petaluma Bowling Manager Rolls Big Score At Marin's Nave Lanes

Rich Croci, owner and manager of Boulevard Bowl in Petaluma seemed to like the conditions of Nave's Lanes as he qualified for the GOLD COAST CLASSIC in his first attempt there this week.

Rich shot a 660 scratch, hitting games of 208-238-214, ending up with a 680 including his 20 pin handicap. Jay Sharp was second in the upper division this week, rolling a 614 scratch closed with a 666 including handicap. Forrey Wilson fired high game of the week with a 267. He had a 647 with his pin fall. Rol Walberg had a 644.

Larry Asay was the qualifier in the lower division with a 591 scratch with games 201-200 to come up with a 673 with handicap. He just did beat out Tom Meisner who had a 670 with a 213 game. George Caspary threw a 660 and Joe Tucker fired a 640.

There is only three weeks left to qualify in the Gold Coast and there is still plenty of time to qualify. The prize fund has increased again with first prize now guaranteed to be $350. Other prizes in order: $208.75, $100, $75, $50, $50, $50, $25, $25, $25, $20, $20. Also special prizes of $75, $50, $25, $25 and $15 are up for competition.

High series this week in the 500 TRIO was a 763-211-215 by Colin Birse.

High series for women was a 683 for four games by Fran Thurman in the Women's Classic Trio. She was followed by Barbara Ward's 680. Aunt Myrt Nave, who just began bowling a year ago, had high game for the girls by blasting her highest ever, a terrific 235.

Orv Orman, bowling in open play, put together a spare and ten strikes in a row, closing with a 9 count for a brilliant 289. Nave Lanes will be organizing for Junior and Bantam Leagues on June 22nd at 9:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m., when youngsters may register.

Byron Eggleston Mill Valley Golf Club's 1962 Champion

Byron Eggleston today wears the medalist crown of the Mill Valley Golf Club.

He took the title in the 54-hole medal play contest by shooting an even par 67 Sunday in the final round to overcome tied runner-ups Ed Cushman and Jack Curley who each came in with 214 totals. Winner of the net-class was club president Keeler Nash, who with his 60 handicap, tallied a low 172 on a 232 gross.

Eggleston, a deliberate, heady golfer led all the way in the final round. He came from the back of the pack in the second round with a one over par 68. His first 18 holes had ended with a high 76.

Russ Muscleman Sets Discus Mark

MOSCOW (AP)—Vladimir Trusenev, who has done most of his throwing in the shadow of the Soviet's top musclemen, today held the world discus record—a mighty 202 feet, 2¾ inches.

Until a month ago, Trusenev, a 31-year-old Leningrad veteran, never had reached the 190-foot mark. Kim Bukhantsev and Algis Baltusnikas were winning most of the Soviet titles.

Yesterday in a city meet in his home town, according to Tass, the official Soviet news agency, Trusenev got off his record-breaking heave, erasing Al Oerter's 23-day old pending record of 200-5½. The listed record is 199-2½, held by Jay Silvester of Tremonton, Utah.

Even the Russians were surprised at Trusenev's effort. He could do no better than 15th at the 1960 Olympics.

At his home in Babylon, N. Y., Oerter, the 25-year-old, two-time Olympic gold medal winner, said he was surprised that Trusenev broke the record.

"I've heard of him, but I didn't think he'd be the guy to break it," said Oerter. "I can't wait to meet him. Gosh, you can't throw them far enough these days."

Corinthian Sailors Face Unexpected

By AL MATSON

The sailors who worked the Saturday shift in the two-day Corinthian Regatta this past week-end encountered plenty of the unexpected—unexpected, that is, for June.

Other than the pleasant temperature, the day had all the earmarks of that found under a January dateline, light, fluky winds and adverse tides. For a few highlights: At the start of Cruising Club "A," Athene and Santana were in a flat spot under Angel Island and the former finally crossed the line 20 minutes late and Santana was astern by another five minutes.

It seemed a hopeless chase with Baruna and Orient far in the lead, yet Athene proved her ability to move in light airs and picked up considerable time on the beat up from the leeward mark.

In the approach to the final mark off Sausalito, needless to say, Jim Wilhite and crew were agreeably surprised to find Baruna and Orient becalmed, and retribution is sweet. Athene circumvented the hapless duo and headed for the finish line off Knox buoy.

Orient and Baruna picked up the breeze and they swept across the finish line in that order with Athene on top. However, due to the time allowance, Orient was the winner with Athene second and Baruna na third ahead of Santana, Orion, Leda and Pacifica.

One had to hunt for wind that day, and Tony Souza proved his prowess as a hunter by, after rounding the leeward mark, he headed Nautical for the San Francisco waterfront, the most circuitous route possible to the windward mark. And he found a healthy breeze that wafted him about the course to finish one hour and 16 minutes ahead of second placer Hank Easom's Sere-nade.

Other notable individuals were Phil Wallace, who tillered Saber, in Division 11, to another lopsided win. Bill Fisher was another who broke into the win column in Cruising Club "D" with his Nanami. Rolfe Croker has had his Antalya at the top of the parade in Division 14 for quite a spell yet none of those wins has been so easy; he beat the second boat, Aida, by a mere one hour and 46 minutes.

The great disparity in times was due to the elusive wind pattern and the fact that an ebb tide caught nearly half of the fleet but one mile from the finish line, and there was a long wait before sufficient wind came up to get them across homeplate.

Overnight, the weather returned to normalcy. The wind was moderately heavy and, with smooth seas, the class boats sailed their courses according to form. Under such conditions, as might be expected, there were few upsets of great consequence.

In the Carinita Class, Bill Gilbert, Corinthian Yacht Club, sailed Kai Kwai into his first victory of the season. Howie Allen scored another upset in the Spaulding 33 Class, beating out the perennial favorite, Dick Connick's Kim, with his Moonstone.

All in all, it was an interesting regatta and a record 380 boats participated.

Wrigley Field Seems Like Prosaic Stop On National League Tour

CHICAGO — After that fabulous weekend in the Polo Grounds, Wrigley Field seems like a prosaic, anti-climatic stop in this current swing around the National League circuit by the Giants.

It was a fabulous, never-to-be-forgotten return to a place hallowed in baseball tradition. It was somewhat like a years-after visit to an old and beloved neighborhood where many cherished experiences took place.

We never will forget the scene outside the players entrance last Friday night when the Giant bus drew up. There was a hard core of old Giant fans — maybe about 50 in all — waiting to greet their heroes who had been away five years. This wasn't a group of autograph seekers. Most in the small gathering had passed middle age. Their greetings were warm and they knew Alvin Dark, Larry Jansen, Whitey Lockman, Wes Westrum, Mike McCormick and Stu Miller on sight. Of course, everyone knows Willie Mays but Willie, the only other 1962 Giant who played previously in the Polo Grounds, already was in the clubhouse. He preceded the

Six Homes On Tour Route

How homes in Terra Linda, Lucas Valley and Marinwood have been decorated by their owners, whose tastes vary from preference for French and Italian antiques and treasures of the Orient, through early American and contemporary stylings, will be illustrated on the tour of homes and gardens on June 16.

The sponsoring Lucas Valley Guild of Sunny Hills has arranged to have the six houses and grounds on view to tour guests from 1 to 4 p. m. that day, culminating with refreshments served in the shade of the giant oak tree in the garden of the Milton Chambers home at 751 Appleberry Dr., Marinwood. Here guild members will serve punch and guests may relax and tour the shady gardens where the architect owner has planted ferns and other woodland greenery.

MEMENTOS GATHERED throughout the Orient by Lt. Col. and Mrs. Albert Leibovitz are features of their tour-stop home at 598 Blackberry Ln., Lucas Valley, and guests may see the carved figure of a man with two tiny prayer scrolls hidden within—a figure believed to be a thousand years old. A 300-year-old chigaidana, or tea server, is displayed in the living room along with the Colonel's ivory collection. Mrs. Leibovitz has arranged to show the dolls she has collected and will have a table setting display of the china she has gathered during their travels.

The master bedroom of the home leads into a Japanese garden with its bridge over a dry streambed. Around the swimming pool the owners have planted specimens of plants they have collected during extensive travel throughout the United States.

THE TERRA LINDA home of the James Ryans at 88 De la Guerra (shown at left) reflects the experience of the hostess, who for several years was a commercial interior decorator. Both she and her husband express their eye for the artistic in selection of furniture for each room of this new house. Done in French, Italian and Victorian styles, the pieces include both authentic antiques and some expertly finished by Mrs. Ryan herself. Guests will note the oriental rug in the living room and the miniature Victorian chest in the baby's room, as well as the interesting use of Promotion day is upon us. Here are some pertinent questions:

Who should be skipped? Very few pupils. They should be ahead of themselves mentally, physically, socially, educationally. They should already have mastered everything to be taught in the next grade. They should be ready and eager to learn what is in the second grade ahead. Teachers and principals are the ones to decide about skipping. Not parents.

Who should repeat? The few who are mentally able to profit by the experience, being emotionally ready for it and educationally below their class group — for example, children who were sick and unable to keep up with their work during the year. They should have been prepared weeks ago, so they see the reason for repeating. If possible they should have shared in the decision. They should look on it as their own idea. Children never should be made to repeat a grade as a punishment.

Who should be promoted to the next grade? All the others, which includes 95 per cent of our children. They'll learn more that way. They'll achieve better emotional development, maintain better physical health, and develop fewer problems if they move along year by year with their regular gang. They are the some sort of kids we were at their ages. Life seems very good to them when promotions come.

What should you ask on promotion day? I suggest you ask just one thing. Ask that your child be placed in the grades and classes where they will make their best all-around progress. That's most important to their development.

READERS' FORUM

Scholarships Are Won By Marin Nurses

Mrs. Mary Clark and Mrs. Janet Klain, nursing supervisors on the staff of San Rafael General Hospital, have been awarded scholarships to a series of six seminars in nursing leadership, it was announced this week.

The series will be held over the next two years under the auspices of the University of California School of Nursing as part of its program on "Continuing Education in the Health Sciences." First of the seminars is scheduled for Sept. 9-14 at the Hotel Claremont in Berkeley.

It is the second time that registered nurses from San Rafael General have been awarded scholarships to the seminars. Mrs. Patricia Leonard, director of nursing, was chosen for the series just concluding, and will be graduated June 22 at ceremonies in San Francisco.

Mrs. Clark, who has been a member of the San Rafael General staff for the past three years, is a graduate of St.

doubs. First grade children are younger, and may be less able to take disappointment than older children. Because they're in their formative years, the emotional shock may be more severe than it would be if the non-promotion came later.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Hail And Farewell Being Said To Popular Couples Here

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

It's hail and farewell in Marin these days. Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Kopfer are staging a family reunion at their home on the Belvedere Lagoon Sunday. It will honor the Kopfers' son, Dr. Rudolph Koufer Jr., and his wife, the former Donna Ryan. The junior Kopfers with their nine months old daughter, Dana, flew in from Europe Saturday.

Donna's mother, Mrs. Robert Ryan of Santa Paula, came by plane from Southern California Friday to be present when the young couple arrived and to see her granddaughter for the first time. The baby was born in Germany. Doctor Kopfer was stationed there for three years by the U.S. Air Force. He and his wife traveled extensively while in Europe and particularly enjoyed skiing in Spain and in the Alps in Italy and Switzerland.

Also attending the family reunion will be the Belvedere couple's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Stuart (Joan Kopfer) of Mill Valley. Mrs. Ryan is remaining for the event. Doctor Kopfer intends to establish dental practice in Marin and he and his wife are looking for a home here.

THE ROBERT MEALMANS of San Rafael are saying farewell to their friends as they are leaving in July to live in England for two years or more. Bob is with Bechtel Corporation and has been transferred to the company's international office in London. He and his wife lived there five years ago and have many friends in England.

Mrs. Mealman has had to resign from a number of organizations in which she has been active. She is a member of San Rafael Improvement Club, and the club-sponsored auxiliary of Lucas Valley Hospital. She is a member of the board of the new auxiliary of Juvenile Hall and is corresponding secretary of Marin Foundation, Friends of Aequipa.

While the Mealmans are gone their cooperative apartment will be occupied by their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Don Allison (Michaeline Mealman). Don has just been graduated from the School of Criminology at San Jose State College.

MR. AND MRS. THOMAS L. CORNS of Belvedere flew to London recently for a tour of the British Isles and Europe. They'll go to Greece and meet Mrs. Corns' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bell of Chandler, Ariz., and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gage of Geneva, Switzerland. On a chartered yacht, the three couples will cruise around the Greek Isles. On their way home the Corns will go to Macon, Ga., to get their children, Sally and Sam, who are visiting Tom's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Corn.

MRS. EARL W. BURNS of San Rafael was hostess at a delightful luncheon Friday at the Meadow Club. June Burns, who is retiring as president of the San Rafael Improvement Club, honored her board members. Long after we arrived June told us Friday was her birthday.

We were all presented with leis and purple orchids and these were appropriate as we said Aloha to Mrs. Peter Andersen who leaves soon with her husband for an extended visit in Denmark. The Andersens have sold their San Rafael home and will move into an apartment when they return.

The party also welcomed home Mrs. Leslie Turner, who at 10:30 that morning had ended her hospital stay for observation and treatment. Others at the luncheon were Mrs. Richard Hardin, who will be the new club president and will be installed June 12, and Mesdames Eleanor Samuelson, Lawis A. Clapp, Eldred B. Hillis, Gabriel Bejarano, Leiton Elder, Peter Cazassa, Homer Hood, Sydney Frank, Donald Murray, Norris Rawles, Robert Swart, Earl Dixon, Louis Yuvan, Sanford McLaughlin, Patrick Flynn, David Stewart, Herbert Christ, Elie Dalmon, W. C. Cornwell, James W. Goodale, William C. Held, Alfred Thompson, Clarence De Long, Ragnar Thanning and myself.

Sally Hardin presented June with a gift from the board.

Decorative Brick Enhances Walls

You hang a new decorative brick to give interior or exterior walls a new look. First, fix stainless steel strips in vertical rows along the wall. The strips have clamps which hold the bricks firmly. Once the bricks are hung, you fill a special tool with mortar and insert its spout between the brick joints, releasing mortar in the precise quantity needed. No footing is needed. The resulting brick wall is not load bearing. But the manufacturer reports it is about a third as costly as an ordinary brick wall.

color, the marble topped chests and the paintings throughout the house. At the entrance is one of the fountains which the hostess enjoys designing and building herself.

COMBINATIONS OF blue, white and gold create a feeling of elegance in the Arthur H. F. Barlow home at 2260 Las Gallinas Ave. which is situated in the oak and bay tree shaded section near Miller Creek.

Though shaded, the home has a light and airy appearance from its special lighting devices and louvred shutters used throughout the house. Other notable fixtures are the Italian chandelier in the dining room and special Italian lights in the master bedroom. Louvred white shutters have even been used on the stereo to complement the living room window treatment. The Barlows have done their own wall papering and furniture refinishing, including the stereo cabinet, the shutters and they have done the draperies for the home. Outside they have also designed the patio and garden areas.

THE DO-IT-YOURSELF home of the Charles Stithams at 285 Adobestone Court takes an early American theme with hand-braided rugs, and maple furniture. And it contains some surprises—the old ice box in the living room dispenses not butter and cream but cool jazz from its hi-fi set interior, the woodbox is stacked with records.

The master bedroom is done in early Maine style with a brass bedstead, maple chests and traditional pitcher and wash bowl. The baby's room takes a circus motif, while the family room is equipped with a juke box, player piano and pinball machine. Outside the swimming pool is flanked by a large barbecue area with built-in sink and cupboard.

THE COLORFUL AND spacious gardens will be featured at the E. E. Lenander home at 901 Las Ovejas in Terra Linda which combines privacy and an unobstructed view. The design by Herman Hein features a garden pool viewed from a semi-circular garden seat wall and the plantings include a large number of native California shrubs and fruit trees around the patio area.

The family room, which opens from a secluded front patio, contains the loom and display of articles woven by the hostess, who is a member of the Tamalpais Weavers' Guild and has exhibited her work at the Marin Art and Garden Show.

HEADING THE COMMITTEE for the afternoon are Mrs. Howard Onstott and Mrs. Seve Gaustad, with assistance from Mesdames Henry Aubel, tickets; William Lane, refreshments; Jerrol Flood, poster and ticket design; and John Yocom, press.

Hostesses will include Mesdames Lawrence Solari, Glen Widdows, H. O. Mullooney, Thomas McKay, Jack Stage, Malcolm Clark, Donald Dean, Richard O'Brien, John Hayes, W. Stanley George, Stewart Spence, Sami Haddad, George Gazulis, William Brook, William Stewart, J. J. Doherty, Dewey Cleland, Gus Raney and Edward Miller.

Marin Girls To Be Presented At San Francisco Cotillion

Among the names on the roster of debutantes to be presented at the San Francisco Cotillion Ball on Dec. 27 are several girls from Marin County. One is Barbara Reichmuth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Reichmuth of San Anselmo, who will also be presented at Marin's first Debutante Ball on Dec. 20 at Corinthian Yacht club in Tiburon. Barbara is a senior at the Katharine Branson School in Ross and plans to enter the University of California in the fall.

Other Branson students who will bow at the ball are Robin Law, daughter of the Robert Laws of Paicines, and Margot Page. Margot, who is the daughter of Mrs. Chester A. Washer of Santa Cruz and Thomas S. Page of Mill Valley, is a fifth generation Marinite.

She is the sister of Victoria Page, Simki and Robin Matern. Now a Branson senior, Margot plans to study in Florence next year.

Janet Ford will also be graduated from the Branson School this month and she plans to enter Stanford University in the fall. She is the daughter of the Robert D. Fords of Caracas, Venezuela and Ross, and the sister of Ellen Ford and Vicki Ford, both of whom were presented at previous Cotillion balls in San Francisco. The Fords will give a tea dance at the Burlingame Country Club Dec. 20 to honor Janet.

Susan Duff, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Duff of Kentfield, is the sister of Diana, Richard Jr., Dennis Timothy and Michael Duff. Diana made her debut at the Cotillion in 1957. Susan, who is a student at the Sarah Dix Hamlin School, will be presented at a tea dance given by her parents

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Signals Are Meant To Help, But They Do Often Backfire

Signals are meant to help the defenders, but they have a nasty way of backfiring. Declarer is allowed to spot the signal and make what he can of it.

South would go down at four hearts if he just minded his own business. There are several losing ways to play the hand, all plausible.

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, June 5 the 156th day of the year with 209 to follow.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning stars are Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening star is Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1917, more than nine and one-half million American men, between the ages of 21 and 30, registered for the draft.

In 1940, the Germans began the Battle of France.

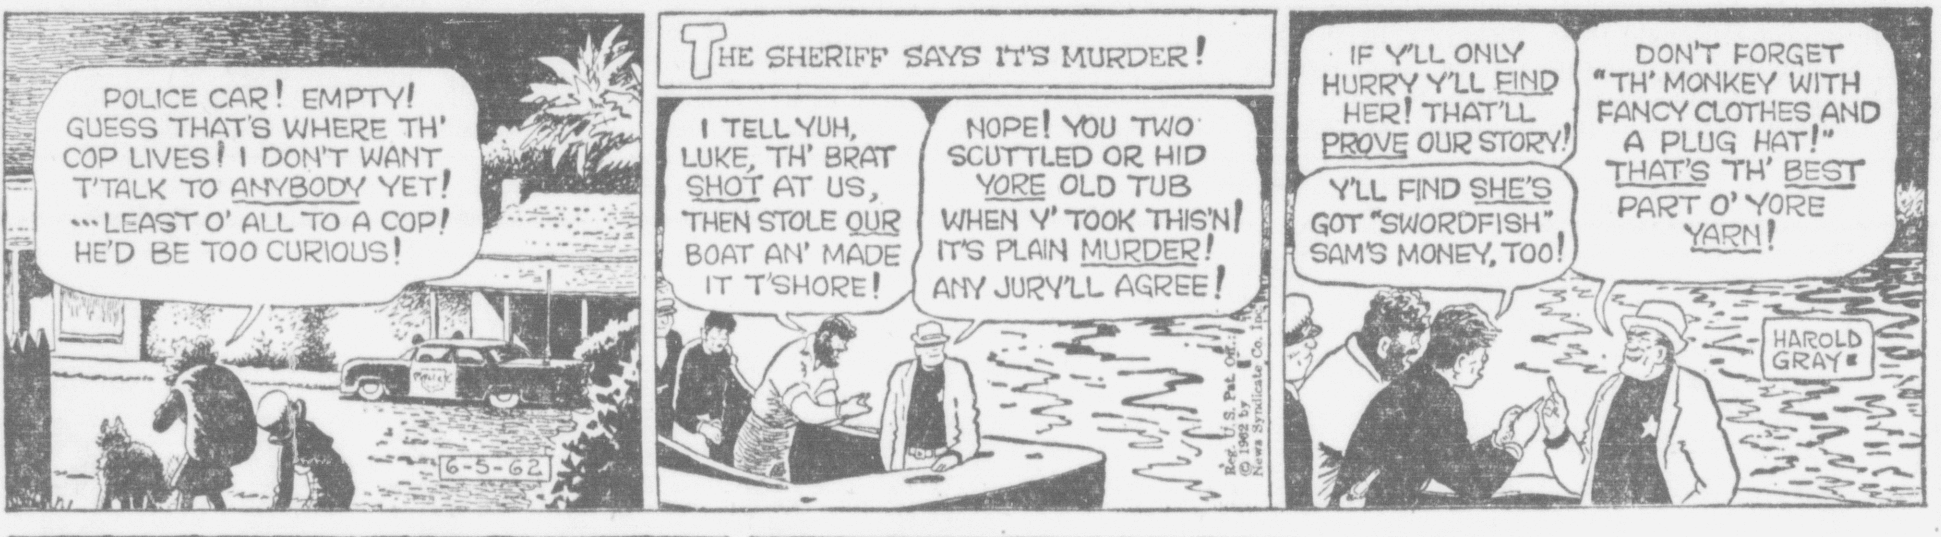

In 1950, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled unanimously that segregation practices in Southern railroad dining cars and in two Southern universities were invalid.

A thought for the day: Greek painter Zeuxis, said: "Criticism comes easier than craftsmanship."

SOUTH CAN TRY

For example, South can try to ruff a spade with dummy's nine of hearts, relying on West to have the jack of hearts.

In this case West is unreliable; East will over-ruff with the jack.

Another method is to ruff the third round of spades with the ace of trumps and then lead out the king and queen of hearts in the hope of dropping the jack.

If it fails to drop, South may try the club finesse. This is a rather pretty idea, but it gives the opponents five rather pretty tricks.

BUSYBODY

South make his contract by being a busybody. East plays the ten of spades at the first trick, obviously signaling shortness.

South should win with the ace and return a spade. West wins, and East completes a high-low by dropping the four of spades.

What does East mean by this signal? Would a sensible defender beg for a third round of spades if he couldn't over-ruff the dummy?

If East hopes to over-ruff the dummy on a third round of spades, he must have the jack of hearts.

Armed with this information, South ruffs the third spade in dummy with the ace.

TIME AND TIDE

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Light-face type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

SUMMER CONCERT OPENER—William D. Hall will direct his chorale group at 3 p.m., June 17, at Forest Meadows, San Rafael.

Hall Chorale To Sing June 17

The William Hall Chorale, composed of 24 talented soloists, opens the Marin Music Chest's summer concert season at 3 p.m., June 17, in Forest Meadows, Dominican College, San Rafael. This is the Chorale's first appearance on a Music Chest series.

The director, William D. Hall, has a broad background in choral music. He was musical director for "Once Upon a Dream," Hollywood; choral director for the Southern California Civic Light Opera Assn.; has worked in several TV productions and is founder-conductor of the 125 voice choir, The Cantiones Sacre.

At present, Hall is Minister of Music at the Arcadia Presbyterian Church, where he is responsible for 500 singers in a graduated program of seven choirs.

Hall is also director of Southern California Presbyterian Music-Art-Drama Conference and is under contract for several of his compositions and arrangements with J. Fischer & Bros., New Jersey.

The young director is currently finishing his work on a doctorate at the University of Southern California.

The William Hall Chorale program on June 17 includes "O Magnum Mysterium" by Victoria; the rarely performed "Coffee Cantata" by J. S. Bach and several folk song arrangements.

Second artist to appear on the Music Chest series will be Grant Johannesen, noted pianist, who gives a recital in Forest Meadows, Sunday afternoon, July 8.

The balance of the season includes a recital by the glamorous Metropolitan and San Francisco soprano, Mary Costa, Sunday afternoon, Aug. 26, and the final attraction brings a return engagement of the San Francisco Ballet after an absence of two years, on Sept. 16 at 8:30 p.m. in Forest Meadows.

91 Graduating From Schools In Fairfax

Six eighth graders will speak before 91 fellow graduates at Fairfax Central School graduation ceremonies at 8 p.m. on June 14 in the Manor School auditorium.

The student speakers are Robert Tobin, Roberta Smith, Lawrence Hardin, Sandra Schultz, June Walker and Daniel Joaquin.

Piano solos will be played by Donald Monson and Susan Gottschalk. A musical duet will be performed by Lawrence Hardin, piano, and William Ingrem, clarinet. Songs by the school chorus will include "Jesus Walked the Lonesome Valley."

Harland Hennessy and Robert Louple, Fairfax School District board members, will present diplomas after the class has been introduced by Principal Bruce McDonald.

Graduates will attend a buffet dinner and dance sponsored by the school parent-teacher association beginning at 6 p.m., June 13 at Manor School.

San Rafael High Elects Student Body President

Gene Maiolini was elected student body president for next fall at San Rafael High School during a two-day election which finished Friday.

Also elected were Jerry Dixon, vice president; Laraine Howard, secretary; Jeanne Kelly, treasurer; Linda Stone, activity points secretary; Dallas Pitts, commissioner of social affairs; Karen Simontachi, yell leader.

A run-off election will be held this week to decide the post of commissioner of assemblies, for which none of the four candidates received a majority of votes cast. Students will decide between Diane Schallock and Sandy Strom, who topped the field yesterday.

Elections of class officers will also be held this week.

To Study Spanish

Redwood High School language teacher Joseph Sullivan is one of 40 persons to receive a summer grant to study Spanish at Purdue University. The eight-week seminar is under auspices of the National Education Act.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

By HARRY CRAFT

Bank Index Indicates Business Activity High In California

Business activity in California hit an all-time high in April, according to Wells-Fargo Bank's seasonally adjusted index.

The bank's business barometer registered employment gains and an unemployment drop from a year ago; record highs in department store sales and manufacturing payrolls.

Electrical equipment and the electronic industry have replaced aircraft as the state's top industrial employer.

Construction of single-family homes was up 27 per cent—and the multiple-family units gained a whopping 84 per cent in Northern California.

Two Marin plants are so busy they have to expand their quarters to match increased pace with space—E. D. Bullard Co., Sausalito, and Fairchild Semi-Conductor in San Rafael.

Bullard is adding 11,000 square feet—another 25 per cent to its present total, expects to occupy it with new equipment in about six months. Fairchild is finishing off some framed-in space to take care of increased production and personnel.

Another sign of the times appears in the entry of two new employment agencies which opened yesterday at 1000 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael — Prime Employers Agency and the nationwide Kelly Girl Service.

Prime Employers, a San Francisco firm, thinks now is the time to get on the ground floor for the increased number of residents expected in Marin during the next 15 years and find jobs for them—at home. Since a recent survey shows that 42 per cent of household heads here already work in the county, the firm's judgment is probably well considered.

Kelly Girl Service was started 15 years ago in Detroit to tap a personnel source which had been pretty much bypassed—married women wanting temporary or part-time work. It is now the largest corporation in the country supplying female temporary office workers.

With an increasing number of apartment dwellers in Marin it's conceivable that married women with more time on their hands will be looking for a chance to turn it into dollars.

The service is one in which skilled office workers of all types are tested, registered and placed in a "bank" where employers can draw on them and reduce fixed payroll costs. Hours range from full time for a temporary period to part time for an extended period. A number of Marin women are already signed up with Kelly's San Francisco office, we understand.

Average age of this part-time, white-collar crew is 37, but the range is wide. In Oakland, for example, one of the busiest part-time workers is 72. She gets all the work she can handle.

Right now, there's a scarcity of key punch operators in Marin, the firm notes.

FRED J. PARKER of Kent Woodlands, secretary of Pacific Lighting Corp., has been elected president of the American Society of Corporate Secretaries—San Francisco regional group, which includes the states of California, Oregon, Washington and Hawaii.
